

Considerable Graveling To Be Done This Summer In Grande Prairie District

It is expected that Highway 11 will be gravelled north of Grande Prairie at least to Mercer Hill and west to beyond Richmond Hill—Crusher To Be Set Up Near The Wapiti River And Gravel Taken From The Bed Of The River—Road To Wapiti Being Built To Serve The Settlers Across That Stream.

A provincial rock crusher arrived at Grande Prairie on Monday, in charge of Mr. Johnson of the Public Works Department.

The machine will be set up near the Wapiti in a few days, when the crushing of rock taken from the bed of the river will be commenced.

Seen by The Tribune reporter, J. H. McQuarrie, road superintendent, said that while it was not possible at the present time to state the exact mileage, he was of the opinion that the road north would be gravelled to the Mercer Hill and west beyond Richmond Hill.

Mr. McQuarrie further stated, that Pender Smith has had a crew of local men building a road to the Wapiti. They have asked for very little and at the same time, they have kept off relief, and they are entitled to the road.

It will be recalled that five years ago these settlers built the ferry at the Wapiti. They have asked for very little and at the same time, they have kept off relief, and they are entitled to the road.

The money being expended on the construction of the road will be a real boost to those hardy settlers.

Change In Oliver Farm Machinery Distribution

Percy E. Thorpe & Son Appointed Direct Oliver Distributors For The Whole Of The Peace River Country, Including The Peace River Block And Will Have Direct Control Over The Appointing Agents.

As an outcome of the recent visit to Grande Prairie of C. A. Silvr, president of Oliver Limited, and Mr. D. Swinton, manager of the Oliver Company for Canada, to Grande Prairie.

Percy E. Thorpe & Son have been appointed direct Oliver distributors for the whole of the Peace River country, including the Peace River Block.

Under the new arrangement the local firm will have direct control over the appointing of all agents, and will be in a much stronger position to aid the farmers of this country in getting the satisfaction out of the Oliver line of implements.

During conversation with Mr. Thorpe had with these two high officials of the Oliver Co., it was clearly brought out, that while the company was and had been for sometime losing money on its business in the north country, the company itself still had great faith that eventually the Peace River district would be among the best districts in Canada for mixed farming, and in the meantime it was the company's intention to continue to give the very best service possible to present and prospective owners of Oliver farm implements.

Mr. Thorpe states that while his new duties may take him away from his local office more than he has been in the past, he feels quite sure that his many and growing number of customers will find his son, Bob, always willing to co-operate with them in filling their needs.

More About What Is Happening At World Assembly

(By Mrs. Rex Harper)

DEL MONTE, Cal., July 22.—Following up my news letter to you last week, I am sending you a short account of what has happened thus far at the World Assembly for Moral Re-armament.

Veterans of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces were amongst service men and women who told Saturday's session that there was yet time to avert disaster, but that civilization faced the alternatives of "Guidance or Guns." Tribute to the quality of sacrifice that war had produced was paid by those who had been in the front, but as one former military nurse declared, "It is not necessary to go through war to become simple and single-minded—not if we enlist for this battle for peace."

More than one thousand M.R.A. leaders from thirty countries, including nearly four hundred from Canada, heard Brigadier-General W. G. Beaman of Kingston, Ontario, read a message to the Assembly from Hon. Ian Alistair Mackenzie, Canadian Minister of National Defence, in which the latter said, in part: "Although my present duties are primarily concerned with the war, I am deeply concerned with the peace."

H. T. Sparby Takes Over Athabasca Inspectorate

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Sparby left on Sunday morning by car on a holiday trip to Banff and other points.

Mr. Sparby on the first of September takes over the Athabasca School Inspectorate. They will live in the town of Athabasca.

"When the Monkman Pass Highway is constructed we sure will come this way enroute to the coast. I hope we will not have long to wait," remarked Mr. Sparby, who was principal of the Grande Prairie High School for the past six years, during which time he and Mrs. Sparby made many friends, all of whom will wish them every success in their new field.

Alta. Government First To Work On Monkman Road

Supplementing its promise of a graded road to the British Columbia boundary on the Monkman Pass Highway following last summer's survey, the Alberta Department of Public Works now has a crew at work clearing the road from Rio Grande.

So far the Alberta government is the only one which has given definite aid to the Monkman Pass Highway. The federal government has expressed its willingness to assist if the province of British Columbia will cooperate. Glen Braden, M.L.A. for the B. C. Block, stated that he would ask for a survey from Fellers Heights at the coming session of the B. C. legislature.

Spirit River Boy Is Fatally Injured By Truck Friday

Victor Holmberg, Age 9, While He Was Playing With Other Boys Ran Across Road In Front Of Truck, Which Passed Over His Body—Died Early Saturday Morning.

(Special to The Tribune)

SPIRIT RIVER, July 29.—A fatal accident occurred here yesterday evening, when Fred Smith, driving a truck and passing a number of young boys playing along the road, accidentally ran over Victor Holmberg, age nine.

It is claimed that, although Smith was driving quite slowly, that young Holmberg, who was quite safe, suddenly dashed across the road in front of the truck. Apparently he never saw or heard the truck and he was knocked down and the wheels passed completely over his body.

Smith took the unconscious boy to the hospital, where Dr. Reavley of Spirit River, and Dr. McFadden of Fairview, were in attendance.

The young boy passed away at two o'clock this morning.

SPIRIT RIVER, July 31.—The funeral service for Victor Holmberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Holmberg of Spirit River, killed in a truck accident, was held in the United Church here on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. H. B. Ricker officiating.

The pallbearers were: James Deane, Leslie Kerr, Ronald Goulet and Charles McLeod.

Victor Holmberg was an exceptionally bright boy and will be greatly missed in Sunday school, day school, and in the community.

There was a large attendance at the service.

Among the many floral offerings were those from: Mother, Dad, brothers and sisters; Uncle and Auntie; his Sunday school class and teacher; the Village of Spirit River; Mr. and Mrs. D. Moore and family; Rev. H. and Mrs. Ricker and the boys at camp; Peggy Moore and Agnes Lawlor; Mr. and Mrs. John Paul and family; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Star and family; Mr. and Mrs. H. Keay and family; Mr. and Mrs. Dodge and Jim; Mrs. English, Rother and Jim; the Harrington family; the George family; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wright and family; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Stevens; Mr. and Mrs. E. Berry and family; David, Laddie and June Tak; Mr. and Mrs. J. Rappell; Ronald Goulet; Mr. and Mrs. R. Foster; Busy Bee Bebekah Lodge; Mr. and Mrs. V. Rappell; Mr. and Mrs. F. Moravec; Mr. and Mrs. D. Vader; Mrs. White and Francis; Mr. and Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Davies; George, Teddy and Wesley; Mr. and Mrs. B. Rappell.

T. Meen Wins 100-Yd. Dash At Calgary

CALGARY, July 31.—Tom Meen of Sexsmith last Saturday won the 100-yard dash at the Highland sports here. His time was 10 1/5 seconds, only half a second more than the Olympic time. In the 220-yard run he was second.

Tom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Meen of Sexsmith. He expects to attend the Provincial Meet at Taber, sometime in September.

Keen Interest Shown In Cockshutt Binder Demonstration

A. Williams, Manager Of Edmonton Branch And E. B. Bocock, Sales Supervisor, Present At Meeting Of Farmers And Agents—Agents Are Guests Of Honor At Dinner Given By The Company.

Keen interest was taken in the binder demonstration held by the Cockshutt Company at Grande Prairie on Friday, by farmers and the company's agents.

E. B. Bocock, sales supervisor, and A. Williams, manager of the Edmonton branch, were present.

Mr. Bocock pointed out the many advantages of the binder, made possible by the addition of up-to-date minute attachments. So far as possible, an action demonstration of the binder was made in the yard, near the Cockshutt headquarters.

The officials were assisted by T. W. Clark, blockman for the company in the north country.

The agents were the guests of honor at a dinner in the Donald Cafe at which Mr. Clark extended a very hearty welcome.

Following the dinner, the agents re-assembled and were further addressed by Mr. Bocock and Mr. Williams.

Practically every point in the Grande Prairie district was represented and the agents left feeling that the meeting was quite worth while.

Mr. Williams, accompanied by Mr. Clark, left on Monday morning for the Block.

Mr. Bocock flew back by plane to Edmonton on Saturday.

The officials expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the crop prospects here.

MISS McNAUGHT PLANNING SERIES OF HISTORIC PICTURES OF MONKMAN PASS SCENES

Miss Betty McNaught of Beaver Lodge, well-known artist, has been spending the past three weeks at Kinuso Falls and Monkman Lake, finding rich material for her canvas. She plans to make a series of pictures of the Pass which will be of historic interest.

BLOCK RESIDENTS ENJOY TRIP TO KINUSO FALLS

A party including Howard Atkinson, president of the M.P.H.A. in the Block, Geo. Heffernan, L. H. Miller, W. H. and Donald Matzer, Beverly and Desmond Braden recently returned from a trip to Kinuso Falls. They were highly enthusiastic about the nearby mountain holiday and the possibilities of the road.

SOCIAL CREDIT MEETING

The regular meeting of the Grande Prairie Social Credit Group will be held Friday, August 4, at 8 o'clock, in the club rooms. Members please attend.

Eighty Per Cent People In B. C. Block Support M. P. Highway

Says William Stuart Simpson, Of Sweetwater, B.C. Who Was A Visitor To Grande Prairie On Saturday—Recently Developed Heaviest Yielding Field Peas In The World, Known As "Regent."

That eighty per cent of the people living south of the Peace in the Block are strongly in favor of the construction of the Monkman Pass Highway, was a statement made to The Tribune reporter by William Stuart Simpson of Sweetwater, B.C., who was a visitor to Grande Prairie on Saturday.

Mr. Simpson further added that while supporting the Monkman Pass project, the people were not opposing the construction of any other road. The more roads the better.

Mr. Simpson, who is a plant breeder, said that he made the trip here to study crop conditions. The visitor recently developed a new variety of peas, known as "Regent," which is the heaviest yielding known.

Mr. Simpson, who is an old newspaper man, while here inspected The Tribune plant.

Fire Destroys Barn, Granary, Hay Stack On Slim Hutt's Farm

Fire that started at 4:30 on Sunday afternoon totally destroyed the barn on the farm of "Slim" Hutt, in the Five Mile school district. A stack of new timothy hay and a granary containing some thirty bushels of wheat, were also destroyed by the fire.

"Slim," who was in town on Monday, in conversation with The Tribune reporter, said that he had no idea what caused the fire, as he had finished building of the hay stack on Friday.

Fortunately, he was able to save the harness and other items, which were in the barn.

No insurance was carried.

MRS. W. C. PRATT OF GRANDE PRAIRIE HONORED AT GOOD WILL GATHERING SATURDAY

On Saturday afternoon, July 29, the members of the Eastern Star met at the home of Mrs. Ernest G. Law to honor Mrs. W. C. Pratt, who is leaving for Arizona in search of health.

During the afternoon a beautiful bouquet of roses was presented to her by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Roy Roberts.

Grocery Donation From Macdonalds Helps Road Crew

The provision larder of the Monkman Pass Highway road crew was greatly benefited this week when Macdonalds Consolidated of Vancouver sent in a donation of $200 worth of groceries to be used for the volunteer road crew.

The donation was greatly appreciated, coming as it did at a time when supplies were low. This firm was very much to the fore last season with a similar donation of merchandise and cash, totalling $300.

Bad Electric Storm Swept Country On Sunday Evening

On Sunday evening an electric storm, the most severe in years, swept in from the west and extended as far as the High Prairie country.

The electric storm was accompanied by a strong wind which blew down hay stacks and in some sections took the roofs off buildings.

The bulk of the storm switched to the Wapiti river before reaching Grande Prairie, and as a result, Grande Prairie was not as hard hit by the wind, as it would otherwise have been. However, the lightning was very severe.

Visitors to the Wapiti from Grande Prairie had an exciting experience. They report that trees were uprooted by the hundreds, and it was necessary to chop the many trees that fell across the road, to permit the passing of cars. This work took about three hours.

According to reports reaching The Tribune, very little damage was done to the crops, and none by lightning.

G. P. Party Have Enjoyable Fishing At Kinuso Falls

J. A. Whitlock, Ike Nelson and Ernie Cookshaw arrived home on Monday evening from Kinuso Falls, where they spent ten days.

Seen by The Tribune reporter, Ike stated that some were out there to enjoy the scenery—and there were gobs of it—but so far as his party was concerned there was only one thing on their minds, and that was fish. They got plenty, ranging from one pound to ten. The fish, he said, were caught below the falls.

Cookshaw, observed Ike, was the surgeon, and his knowledge of the anatomy of a fish was absolutely wonderful. When he was through with the operation there was nothing left to do but put them in a pan and let the fire do the rest.

In discussing the visit to the Falls, Mr. Whitlock described Ike as a great cook. It was agreed that the first one to complain was to take over the cooking duties.

Ernie Cookshaw said the hay he had for breakfast was fine, but the toast was burnt terribly, the eggs were too hard, but everything was just the way he liked it.

One morning Ernie became seized with a spasm of energy. He claimed that fish bite better early in the morning and started out. Ike claimed that fish are civilized and breakfast about 10 a.m. "In the meantime," said Mr. Whitlock, "we had our beauty sleep. We have breakfast and our sympathy goes out to Cookshaw, so we prepare an attractive breakfast for him. Of course we expected him to arrive with a load of fish, but we were through from the spray of the falls and he arrived empty-handed."

"Ike proved that his knowledge of the finny tribe was correct and in a few minutes he pulled out a six-pounder. Of course Ernie had to take it."

"We had a good trip and enjoyed ourselves immensely," remarked Mr. Whitlock, who was as brown as a berry.

FINE DISPLAY OF PICTURES AT OLDTIMERS' PICNIC

Crowds around the M.P.H.A. booth at the Oldtimers' picnic at Lake Saskatoon were thrilled by the artistic display of photos of Monkman Pass scenery, the work of R. E. Leake, Beaver Lodge. Many new pictures of this year's work were particularly interesting.

His Excellency Archbishop H. Antoniutti Banqueted By St. Joseph's Parish Tues.

J. P. McIsaac, K.C., Of Sexsmith, Occupied The Chair—Mayor T. W. Lawlor Extends Welcome On Behalf Of Town—Rev. Father McKenna Spoke For St. Joseph's Parish—His Excellency Said He Came With A Message Of Peace—After Living In War-Torn Countries For Seven Years It Is With Great Joy He Is Now In A Land Of Peace.

His Excellency Archbishop Hildebrando Antoniutti, Papal Delegate to Canada, was the guest of honor at a banquet given by St. Joseph's parish on Tuesday evening, August 1, in the new annex of the Donald Hotel.

There were exactly one hundred in attendance, representing practically all religious beliefs. Several came from the Block.

The banquet was excellently prepared and splendidly served by the Donald Cafe and the annex was suitably decorated for the occasion.

J. P. McIsaac, K.C., of Sexsmith, who occupied the chair, spoke of the honor done Grande Prairie by His Excellency's visit. Mr. McIsaac referred to the fact that people of all religious faiths were present as an indication of the tolerance and breadth of view which obtains in the Peace River country. He felt that it was a great honor, not only to St. Joseph's parish but to the district as a whole to have the representative of His Holiness the Pope pay this visit.

Mr. McIsaac then called upon Mayor T. W. Lawlor, who on behalf of the town welcomed the distinguished visitor.

Rev. Father McKenna, in charge of St. Joseph's parish, was next introduced. He said that it was a pleasure and honor to have His Excellency visit the parish. "We of the Redemptorist Order feel that we are in a field which was cultivated by the members of that noble pioneer order, the Oblates."

The chairman then introduced His Excellency, who spoke as follows: "Mr. Chairman, Your Worship the Mayor, Rev. Fathers, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"I am very kind of you to invite me to this banquet, for this banquet is not merely a gastronomic feast but a spiritual gathering.

"In receiving me you have received the youngest ambassador of the oldest empire on earth, and I come with a message of peace, which is in accord with the nature of your country. Your heart is as big as the prairie over which I passed this afternoon. I come from the noblest missions, whether I brought a message of peace and love to the missionaries working for Christianity and for human civilization."

"An Apostle Delegate has made the trip. A plane has the form of a dove, the symbol of peace, and love of our Lord, Jesus Christ. I cannot express the emotions I felt in being in the presence of this mission, the mission of Christ the King, at where I celebrated Mass just eight days ago, and there I prayed to Christ the King for world peace, according to the earnest wish of the Pope."

"The game which was good, unfortunately terminated in a disagreement in the first half of the tenth, when Grande Prairie protested a decision of the umpire, Harry Murray, of Sexsmith.

The score stood 4-4 at the end of the ninth frame. With two men out in the tenth and two men on base, a play was made at second base to catch a runner from first. The second baseman caught the ball on the base line and the runner dodged out arriving behind the second base to avoid being touched with the ball. The umpire called the man safe and the locals finished the inning under protest.

Alex Warenauk batted a home run scoring two men and himself. Grande Prairie refused to go any further. Batteries—Rycroft: Fred Lazeruk and Warenauk. Grande Prairie: Roy Wright and Barry Crummy.

Masons Enjoy Banquet and Ball At Lake Saskatoon

Wonderful Banquet Prepared And Served By Ladies Of Lake Saskatoon Anglican Church. Short Addresses Interposed. Musical Program—150 Sat Down To Banquet Table—Practically Everyone Remained For Ball.

One hundred and fifty sat down to the Masonic banquet held in the Memorial Hall, Saskatoon, on Tuesday night of this week. The wonderful feast was prepared and served by the ladies of Lake Saskatoon Anglican Church.

Short addresses were delivered by J. H. W. S. Kemmis, Calgary; Captain R. E. Campbell, Wembley; Sam Harris, High Prairie; J. H. W. S. Kemmis of Calgary, and James McFarlane of Lake Saskatoon.

The addresses were interspersed with the following delightful musical program: Vocal solos by Miss Tannahaus, J. W. Pickard, Mrs. W. Pearcey, Mrs. E. G. Law and Joe Moore; vocal duets by Mrs. Pearcey and Mrs. Law; piano solo by Miss Olive Kowensky.

There was a touch of the Land of the Heather when W. Sutherland of Calgary played several selections on the bagpipes.

Pleasing variety was lent to the program when Constable Lynas showed pictures of the Royal Visit to Canada and the United States. Practically everyone attended the grand ball which followed.

DEATH TAKES 13-YEAR-OLD SON OF MR. AND MRS. PROUSE

The funeral of Edwin Prouse (13), son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Prouse of Grande Prairie, who passed away on Wednesday, August 2, after a short illness, will be held from McLaughlin Baptist Church, at 2:30 p.m., Friday, August 4.

Services will be conducted by Captain Waller of the Salvation Army.

E. Pavano To Sing Over CFGP, Fri., Aug. 4, 8.15 p.m.

Ernest Pavano, noted opera singer of New York, who has been visiting in Grande Prairie, and district for the past few weeks, will sing English and Italian songs over CFGP at 8:15 Friday evening.

Mr. Pavano leaves on August 18 on a concert tour to Prince Rupert and points in Alaska.

He stated to The Tribune reporter that he would be back in New York late in September.

desire of the Holy Father, who at present is truly a prince of peace on earth.

"A short time ago, in his efforts to promote peace, Mr. Chamberlain, Prime Minister of Great Britain, visited the Holy Father and after this visit uttered these words in the British House of Commons: 'I cannot express the deep feelings that arose within me from contact with that venerable man, 82 years of age, seeing the strong spirit of humanity with which he worked for world peace.'"

"These words from one of the greatest men of our times are a strong tribute to the moral authority and spiritual influence of our Holy Father, the Pope.

"For seven years I was in China during the civil war. I spent two years in Portugal during the revolution. Then I was one year in Spain during the civil war there, and after seeing for seven years the terrible disasters caused by wars in these various lands, it is with great joy I come to a land of peace, where all work together for the benefit of human civilization."

"I am indeed pleased to be in this good country after eleven years in countries troubled by war. I congratulate you on your peaceful country. May God continue to give peace to you, to your families and to your country."

"I thank you for your kind words of welcome and I assure you I shall ever keep a grateful souvenir of my short visit among you."

Before leaving His Excellency was introduced to many of the audience, during which he expressed regret that his visit to Grande Prairie was necessarily so short.

Rycroft Balltossers Defeated G. P. On Sunday Afternoon

Locals Protested Decision Of Umpire Murray And Refused To Go On After First Half Of Tenth Innings—Score Stood 7 To 4.

Before a good sized crowd, Rycroft balltossers defeated Grande Prairie in a ten innings game on the local diamond on Sunday afternoon by a score of 7 to 4.

The game which was good, unfortunately terminated in a disagreement in the first half of the tenth, when Grande Prairie protested a decision of the umpire, Harry Murray, of Sexsmith.

The score stood 4-4 at the end of the ninth frame. With two men out in the tenth and two men on base, a play was made at second base to catch a runner from first. The second baseman caught the ball on the base line and the runner dodged out arriving behind the second base to avoid being touched with the ball. The umpire called the man safe and the locals finished the inning under protest.

Alex Warenauk batted a home run scoring two men and himself. Grande Prairie refused to go any further. Batteries—Rycroft: Fred Lazeruk and Warenauk. Grande Prairie: Roy Wright and Barry Crummy.

Field Day To Be Held At Sexsmith Sat., August 5th

Farmers' attention is called to the Field Day which will be held at Sexsmith on the afternoon of August 5th, on Mr. Warren's field opposite the elevators.

Mr. F. J. Fox, Provincial Cerealist, will inspect the demonstration plot and lecture on the different varieties of grain. The lecture will commence at 2:00 p.m. All farmers are cordially invited to attend.

F. Donald's New Recreation Parlor Opens Saturday

Fitted With Shower Baths And The Latest Sanitary System, And A Modern Lighting Plan, The Large Airy Room Embodies Everything To Make The Parlor A Credit To The Country—Dan Wishart Will Continue In Charge.

Frank Donald's new Recreation Parlor will be open to the public on Saturday morning. The building is really an extension of the Donald Hotel attached to the west end.

This new billiard parlor is the last word in construction and in point of comfort. It is 33 x 80 feet. There are six snooker tables. At the front there are cigar and candy cases.

The building is fitted with hot and cold water. There are two shower bath rooms and the very latest sanitary arrangements have been installed.

A beam ceiling and pattern fibre board walls, something new in this country, further add to the attractiveness of the large airy room.

Comfortable cushioned seats line the sides. The lighting system is especially arranged to suit the nature of the business.

The building and arrangement is a real credit, not only to Grande Prairie but to the whole north country.

Dan Wishart will continue in charge.

DEMOCRACIES FURNISH MOST OF WAR MATERIAL TO JAPAN

According to reliable sources, it is estimated that 86 per cent of the war material shipped to Japan has been and is still being shipped from the United States, France, The Netherlands, and the British Empire.

This material is being used to crush the budding democracy in China. It is being used to kill innocent civilians by the thousands.

Sentiment of the people in the nations named is opposed to Japan's invasion of China. In the United States a powerful organization has grown up to boycott Japanese goods, but still Japan continues to draw war munitions from the republic.

Getting closer to home, Canada is one of the worst offenders, for the reason this country has a virtual monopoly of nickel, which metal is absolutely necessary in modern warfare.

The Canadian people are one hundred per cent opposed to Japan's efforts to throttle the growing Chinese democracy and bring that heroic people under the control of the Japanese dictatorship. Such control would mean that the ancient nation would be reduced to a vassal state.

Knowing all this, we Canadians sit idly by and allow war material to be shipped from our shores and collectively we neglect to protest.

There is another phase of the situation. Should the British Empire ever become involved in a war, Canadian nickel will be used to bore holes in Canadian boys.

If the democratic nations of the world would cut off the sinews of war to Japan, the war would not last long. The most effective way to defeat aggressor countries is to refuse to sell them war material.

The democracies have in their hands the means to stop not only Japan but other aggressor nations. Why is that power not used? The answer is PROFITS. For the sake of profits the peace of the world is threatened.

The time is overdue for the Canadian people to demand that the shipment of war material to Japan and aggressor nations must stop.

It is absolutely absurd to preach peace and then supply warring nations with war material. In fact it is a travesty.

Along the Trail

AN OPTIMIST AT 65

It is refreshing at any time to meet an optimist—I mean a man who has a sane vision of the future.

On Wednesday I met such a man in the person of H. A. George, of Peace River, who spent a few hours at Grande Prairie on Wednesday.

Mr. George, who is an ex-president of the Peace River Board of Trade Association, came to Edmonton in 1897, when that city had about 2,000 population. He stated that there is more astir at Grande Prairie today than there was in Edmonton when he first saw it.

The growth of Edmonton, Mr. George remarked, should give us a proper vision of our own country here, and he predicted that in the Peace River there will also be a large city.

Prior to moving to the town of Peace River, Mr. George, who is now 65 years of age, spent eight years in the Wabasca country.

At the conclusion of the little chat with the writer of this column, Mr. George said: "I have no use for a pessimist," adding that considering the development that has taken place in the Peace River country this last number of years he could not see why there should be any pessimists in this country.

DUCK TAKES FOR ITSELF

ONE DUCK

A young duck is causing keen interest and a great deal of pleasure to campers at Bear Lake. It is not known whether or not the duck has attached itself to a boat used by a group of boys, or to the boat. When the boys set out for a row, the duck follows and when tired, one of the boys puts his hand down into the water and the little fellow permits itself to be taken aboard.

On Wednesday, a retriever brought the duck to shore and laid it gently down. After a rest the duck took to the lake, followed by the retriever. When the dog came up to the duck, the duck dove beneath the boat to the astonishment of the canine, which evidently concluded that the duck had forever disappeared, and returned to shore.

When the boat is at anchor the duck, sits in the shadow, with its head resting against the side of the boat.

The actions of the duck would indicate that it has plenty of grey matter. Up to the time of writing, the breed of the duck had not been determined.

Dad's Notions

By E. B. Stanley

Show the guests the berry plots. Pick the fruit before it rains. Dad's notions most forgot. "Dash them off"—be gone again. And more: With the beer-parlor now proposed for Faust, and my enlarged convictions diametrically opposing it, every free minute is used for the "dry" cause as I see it.

A free-man's right. Following are a few of the points written out and backed up as cogent as I can. It is not in animosity toward any person, but rather in pity for the one who fails to realize the curse in profit, seeks to sell the cup that contributes to the downfall of manhood and womanhood.

There are those who were raised in the environment of strong drink, of whom it is said, that they retained self-control; but with even these, God only knows how far short they came of reaching the success they might have reached if being the men they might have been, of earning the honor they might have earned, of being an influence for the uplift of men they might have been.

Then there are those who, in the serpent's coils, at last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder (Prov. 23:32)—will-power destroyed, job lost, babies in want and suffering, and mothers insane with distress—the whole brood being dragged toward perdition by the hellish traffic: because someone sought gain; and through that, another one became encoiled by the serpent-taste for drink and finds himself powerless to get free again.

With utmost vigilance of our capable Corporal, moon-shining is at its lowest ebb. His constant challenge is, "show me the man"; nor does the Corporal wait to be shown. Yet there are those who, declining to give evidence, loudly proclaim that there is bootlegging.

While decrying bootlegging, they plead for a beer-parlor. They would bring the serpent out of its hole, accept him in good-fellowship, and give him a free hand at our new crop of young men and young women in the decades to come.

It is true that it is the nature of the human animal to sneakingly experiment with that which is not allowed. Question! Would a beer-parlor take away that tendency? Never! It would only lengthen the tether, and the unlawful experiments would be given freer and more extensive scope.

Moon-shining and a beer-parlor are, according to my notion, the same reptile. One is in hiding and hardly seen, the other is made a bosom friend; but both bent upon the same deadly work.

And no greater falsehood can be uttered, I am sure, than to say: "He who fights the beer-parlor is in 'kahoots' with the boot-legger."

If these notions are correct and liquor is the destroyer of ideals, the degrader of morals, and the right hand of general wickedness—a helper of white slavery, of banditry, and of murder—the cause of frustrated hopes, of ruined characters, and of Godless deathbeds, then that explains why Habakkuk (2:15) said: "Woe unto him who giveth his neighbor drink, and the end of the same verse shows the main motive to be that of removing restraint and debauching moral characters."

These and other points are posted in town every mail day, also mimeographed and circulated in the homes. Numerous prominent citizens are giving material support to the anti-beer-parlor sentiment.

TAKES ISSUE WITH TRIBUNE EDITORIAL

To the Editor of The Tribune.
Since coming to the Peace River District I have had the opportunity of reading The Northern Tribune. My first impression is that it is a "well gotten-up" weekly paper and a very fair-minded one.

Therefore, when I take issue with you on your editorial of July 27, re "Communism" I do so in a friendly manner, with a view to presenting the case from my own experience and study, based upon certain facts that are easily ascertainable.

It is a common saying that stories told over and over again are inclined to grow whiskers. Not so with stories about the "terrible Communists." Each year, and every new development, assists in removing the "whiskers and terrors" of the terrible Communists. Not because the Communists are "changing their ideas" but because their "ideas" are becoming better understood.

I am a Communist. I don't grow whiskers—though they were once quite popular in my mother country (Scotland). I was taught at home from my early years to polish my shoes and press my trousers, so that this is no "recent manoeuvre" on my part.

Canada is the country of my adoption. It is a country in whose development my countrymen have played no small part. I can truthfully say that membership, study and activity in the Communist Party has brought me to a better understanding of my country, and stimulated a deeper love for Canada. Frankly, it was because I was concerned about the future of this country and the happiness of its people that I joined the Communist Party, whose program I believe offers the solution for all of Canada's economic ills.

The same thing might be said about the things I study and speak about. In addition to studying the best that British, French and American (etc.) authorities have to offer, I have the rich historical traditions of democratic endeavor. I also study the history of present-day Russia. Obviously, as a Socialist I have very special reasons for studying carefully present-day Russia—it is the first and only Socialist workers' state in history thus far.

But do I study Russia in order to copy Russia? Certainly not! I study present-day Russia in order to improve conditions in Canada. I am willing to study the experiences of the workers and farmers of all countries. In doing so, I do not consider myself unpatriotic, but extremely patriotic in the best sense of the word. I want to see the best that humanity has discovered placed at the service of my country. But then surely this is just the essence of democratic education such as we are given to some degree in our schools and universities. If all the contributions made to the study of political economy and all our physical science studies were discarded because the individuals making them were not Canadians but Russians, Germans, Austrians, French and English, then we would indeed have to close our schools and universities. The fact is that as a young Canadian I am becoming concerned about Canada—it is not going forward. By that I am thinking of a Canada going "forward" in the interests of the majority of the Canadian people. Canada's economic wealth and the means of further developing it is going into fewer and fewer hands, with the result that there is a decline in economic life—bankruptcy for the mass of the Canadian people, workers, farmers, and middle class people.

Canada has lost her place as the second gold-producing country in the world. The Soviet Union has passed Canada and is on the way to passing South Africa too. Canada's Arctic is undeveloped, except a few concessions in mining handed over to the Consolidated Mining and other big mining corporations. Russia's Arctic is being rapidly developed. In general the rate of development of the Soviet Union in all fields and the rising living standards of its people are phenomenal and is such that I ask, "If they can do it, why not we in Canada?" What is holding us back?

If one has the time, he should get a copy of the Statistical Year Book of the League of Nations and there he can see for himself that while capitalist countries are lagging behind—and I include the Fascist powers (what are they supposed to have solved their problems?) and the most capitalist country, the United States—while all these have lagged behind since the war in general and in particular, that the Soviet economy has progressed upward.

With 1928-29, a sharp divergence began between the course of economy in the capitalist world and that of the Soviet Union. The divergence was sharp and startling. While the capitalist economy went into a decline which by 1933 had dropped 40 per cent, the Soviet economy began to rise at a rate paralleled in history. While by 1938 the capitalist world had barely climbed back to its 1929 level and had slipped behind again, the Soviet economy had increased its industrial production by more than one thousand per cent; had multiplied it ten times over.

However, a letter column in a newspaper does not offer much scope for going into details on this all important question. I merely wish to indicate some great developments proceeding in the Workers' First Socialist State, where Socialism means a richer and better supplied society than capitalism can ever dream about.

Let me say in conclusion that this great Socialist country, with its 180 million people and its mighty economy offers the hand of friendship to all democratic nations, and to all democratic aggressors. This is something that is clear to everyone who loves his country and who cherishes democracy, regardless of whether he approves or disapproves of the inner regime of the Soviet Union and its economic system. The Soviet Union is unalterably on the side of international order and peace, against all aggressions everywhere in the world. The only way in which Britain and Canada can find themselves on the opposite side to Russia in world affairs is by lining themselves up with the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo axis—lined up with their policy of murder and destruction in China and Spain. This is something every patriotic Canadian hopes never to see. This would be contrary to the whole history and sentiment of the Canadian people.

It is up to every Canadian to study for himself all world-wide developments and social movements. The study of Communism has been left too long by the average Canadian to the muck-rakers of "Liberty" and the Hearst press; and many good, sincere people have allowed themselves to be deceived by their hair-raising tales of force and violence. One thing is sure: the interests who today are driving the worker and farmer into economic misery and bankruptcy do not wish to see a fair-minded study and discussion of Communism because it would mean the end of their regime and a happier Canada for our children.

As for me, whatever my Canada's problems may be solved, my desire is that it will be a democratic way. That is the way I am working for.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange
Director "The Crop Testing Plan."

The Armistice, which concluded hostilities in the late Great War, came into effect at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11, 1918, but it was not until July 12, 1919, just twenty years ago, that the war officially ended, for on that date and not until that date, did the Allied Nations lift the blockade against Germany, and it is recorded that on July 12, 1919, a number of ships containing foodstuffs, cotton and other materials, for the first time since 1917, left United States ports for Germany.

Now, after exactly twenty years, there is talk again of war, of possible blockades, and of the curtailment of supplies of foodstuffs and of raw materials to European Nations, just as it was prior to July, 1919, twenty years ago.

The Allied soldiers who won the great victory and peace in 1918, and who, moreover, won also the respect and friendship of the defeated nations, will no doubt wonder what the politicians of the world have been doing during the last twenty years to bring the world once again back exactly to the same sad and distressing state that existed during the war years.

Where is the great Victory and Peace we won twenty years ago, Old Soldiers might ask?

Following factors have tended to raise prices: Britain to increase reserve wheat stocks substantially. Crop prospects in Tunis below earlier expectations—Rust lowers Bulgarian wheat outlook—Germany and Italy make barter agreement for the Roumanian wheat—Belgian wheat must maintain reserve of foreign wheat—Record sugar production in Taiwan.

Following factors have tended to lower prices: Heavy rainstorms materially benefit Argentine crops—Continuation of trouble at Tientsin prevents further flour sales to the Orient—Tendency to raise wheat estimates in Hungary—Harvesting under way in Western Canada—Act of Congress of subsidized wheat—Expect large crops of apples and plums in Denmark.

AT HOME

Neil Sissons and his sister Frances, with their pet dog, "Blackie," are seen here on the lawn of their home. Last week-end Neil accompanied his father, J. H. Sissons of Grande Prairie, on a trip to Kinuseo Falls and had the time of his young life.

Adventures Of Neil In Monkmanland

Neil Sissons was a pleased boy when Dad agreed to take him on a trip to Kinuseo Falls. Of course it was too bad mother and sister Frances could not go; and getting up on a trip is no joke either, especially for a nine-year-old boy.

However, Neil made the grade, and when Dad rolled out of bed at five o'clock on the morning of the trip, Neil did too. By 8:30 they had breakfast and were away bound for Rio Grande and Kinuseo Falls, accompanied by another early riser who was making the trip.

The three of them arrived at Rio Grande in plenty of time to catch the Jacobs Passenger Service truck for the Falls and back. Other passengers for the truck were a school inspector, two hardware men, a lawyer and two girls going to Stony Lake. The crew consisted of driver, assistant driver, and a steward-cook.

Leaving Rio Grande, the truck soon plunged into the bush and Neil's eager eyes sought everything from butterflies to grizzly bears, but nothing of importance occurred until the last homestead farm was reached. Here several children claimed his attention. One of them was a boy about Neil's age. No school was near enough for them to attend. "What a swell place to live," commented Neil. But the school inspector didn't seem to think so.

The next bit of excitement came at the boundary of Alberta and British Columbia, where the metal and concrete marker claimed attention. On it Neil found many names and he added his.

Journeying along, a stop was made at each of the several creeks passed before reaching Kruger's Flats. None of the party missed an opportunity to drink from the crystal clear mountain streams. Neil filled up to capacity, his thirst for knowledge apparently making his throat very dry.

The cabin at Kruger's Flats was reached in time for lunch and in the shade of the trees near the building the first outdoor meal of the trip was served. Dubiously Neil's day watched first one and then another cheese or bologna sandwich disappear into his young hopeful's tummy. A piece of cake and an orange topped off the lot. The rest of the party also fared very well indeed and the trip was continued with the satisfied feeling a good meal in pleasant surroundings creates.

Stony Lake was reached just before supper time. After supper occurred the big event of the day for Neil—Dad hired a boat and took him fishing. And he caught a fish! A big one. Great was Neil's excitement and for a time Dad half expected his boy would fall overboard endeavoring to get the fish on the end of the line. Neil, however, landed it safely and did it alone. He was a proud boy when he walked up to the store and presented the fish to the lady there. She promised to cook it for his breakfast.

Just before bedtime Neil and Dad went swimming, and so ended the first day. What a breakfast Neil had the next morning! The fish he caught the night before, done to a turn, was served as the main dish. And delicious it was, too. The lady of the store had done herself proud and cutlet after cutlet disappeared, not even a morsel of the fish was left.

Following this never-to-be-forgotten meal, the party, excepting the two school girls, resumed the journey to the Falls. As on the first day, Neil eagerly scanned mountainside and valley for moose, bear, wolves, porcupine or what-not, and finally his efforts were rewarded by the sight of a deer. A deer-colored body was outstanding against green bushes some two hundred yards from the truck. For several moments Neil and the rest of the party regarded the deer with interest—and with no less interest the deer regarded the party. However, a faint touch of the truck's horn sent it bounding away and its beautiful fawn-colored body and graceful antlers soon disappeared into the forest.

Following the thrill of seeing a deer in full flight, zoom of hawk and glimpse of chipmunk held little excitement for Neil. Even a porcupine trudging down the road a little distance ahead failed to awaken any real interest.

Dinner was served about half way to the Falls.

Not until Kinuseo River bridge was reached did Neil's interest reach a new high. Near the bridge a party from Sexsmith was camped, and just before the truck's arrival two big boys brought in a very large fish. One of them had caught while they were fishing from a raft a short time before. Everybody in the camp was excited and eagerly showed the catch to the new arrivals. For Neil the climax came when he was given the fish to hold while its picture was being taken. Holding it at head level with his own, he was able to keep its tail from dragging on the ground.

It was at supper-time near the end of the journey, however, that the day's big thrill came to Neil—and the rest of the party—a forest fire! For many hours smoke had been noticed rising to the sky ahead and many conjectures were made regarding the location of the fire. From the party at the bridge it was learned that the bush was ablaze at the end of the car road, some four miles away. With much apprehension the party continued on and finally arrived where five men, all begrimed with smoke and dust were fighting which runs regular weekly trips to the Falls and back. Other passengers for the truck were a school inspector, two hardware men, a lawyer and two girls going to Stony Lake. The crew consisted of driver, assistant driver, and a steward-cook.

over the trail to the Falls, assured its passengers that everything was O.K. No further difficulty was encountered and end of car travel was soon reached. From there on the packer took charge of the tourists and guided them to the lodges at the head of the falls, a distance of about three miles. This climb was made by pack and saddle pony and on foot by some of the party. All of this, including the spectacle of the waters of the Murray River plunging over a high cliff into the valley below, was very thrilling, but Neil already was longing to be back at Stony Lake, where he caught the big fish and could boat ride and go swimming. Compared to that, to Neil the grandeur of Kinuseo Falls, the beauty of the Murray River, the fine boulevard along the stream, the lofty mountains and the attractive lodges meant little, for boys are that way. So he was glad to get back to the truck and back to Kinuseo River bridge.

The school inspector, the two hardware men and the lawyer stayed at the Falls for a week's fishing along the Murray River and Monkman Creek, a fisherman's paradise.

Next day was Sunday, and the truck party, now greatly reduced in number, slept till 8:30 a.m. With Stony Lake only 24 miles away, it was decided to make an easy stage of that part of the return trip.

Neil, now dressed in his camp Sunday best, was eager to go. Nothing exciting happened en route and Stony Lake was reached early in the afternoon. Dinner was eaten there.

After dinner Neil and his dad went on an exploration trip to the north side of the lake, where there is a trapper's cabin, built by Emil Kruger many years ago. Over the cabin door is a large pair of moose horns. To reach the north side of the lake from the camp grounds and store a slough and bridge across Stony Creek have to be crossed. Though the sun was shining brightly, Neil's dad noticed while crossing the slough that heavy black clouds were forming over the mountains west of the lake. However, it was decided to take a chance and continue the exploration. The objective was a railway survey stake about half a mile away. No sooner was this stake reached than the storm broke with mountain climate swiftness and the explorers had to make a fast run to the protection of Kruger's cabin to avoid being soaked to the skin.

It was a real mountain storm and one that lashed the waters of the lake and its fury. Big combers beat the shore and white-crested waves rushed across the lake. Overhead lightning flashed continuously and the crash of thunder reverberated from mountain peak to mountain peak. Rain fell in torrents, curved into fantastic shape by the force of the wind.

Neil watched the awesome fury of the storm with great glee. Here was another adventure! Storm-bound in a trapper's cabin, many miles from home. He said: "What shall we do if a grizzly bear comes in for shelter, Dad?" That was a poser for father. It was a question that would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer, and was a teaser for a Grande Prairie one, so Dad let it go by. At Stony Lake store Neil had heard the story of Kruger coming back to this very cabin several years before and finding a big grizzly in full possession. Apparently Neil was hoping the "whoppers" would bring another bear along.

The storm lasted for about an hour, then stopped as suddenly as it had begun. In a short time the explorers were back at the store, their feet soaking wet. Another adventure had been lived through.

After supper, the lake being comparatively smooth, Neil's dad hired a boat for an hour's fishing. Not without some fears, however, for should the fish not be biting, the lad would be greatly disappointed; he had looked forward to catching another fish in Stony Lake ever since leaving Kinuseo Falls. But Dad's fears were groundless. The fates were kind and soon a fish, one even larger than the first, lay in the bottom of the boat. Not only that, but two "whoppers" got away. So now Neil is a full-fledged fisherman in good standing.

To complete his day he took a "dip" in the lake and then to bed. He was the bravest one in the party. The next morning Monday was uneventful for the road was almost as dry as if there had been no storm the day before, and Neil arrived home at 10 p.m. with as good a vacation trip adventure story as any boy could wish to tell his pals.

Nevertheless, it was good to be back home with mother, Frances, and "Blackie," his pet dog.

CABINS AT STONY LAKE

These comfortable cabins were built last year by Rudolph Jacobs (insert). Mr. Jacobs is owner of the cabins and store at Stony Lake. Last week he made his twenty-fifth trip over the road with his truck.

STONY LAKE

Gateway To Kinuseo Falls and Monkman Pass

Motorboating - Fishing Swimming

STONY LAKE is an ideal place to spend the summer, and especially during August and September is this halfway camp between Kinuseo Falls and Rio Grande at its best. Water of the lake is warm and a shallow sandy beach near the camp grounds is a safe bathing place for children. Those who like lake fishing will find excellent sport either with fly or spoon, and motorboating and rowing are added thrills. Hikers will discover a new land to ramble over and mountain climbers will have an opportunity to toughen their muscles for the higher peaks a little farther on by scrambling over Stony Lake Mountain and the hills and dales to Honeycomb Creek and other streams that lure the ardent fisherman farther and farther afield. STONY LAKE camp is a delightful stopping place en route to and from Kinuseo Falls. A full line of camping supplies is carried at the store, including gasoline and oil for cars. Meals also are served.

Canadian Exhibit Poultry Congress

Based on the fact that Canada is a natural bird habitat, the National Exhibit of Canada at the 7th World Poultry Congress to be held at Cleveland, Ohio, July 28 to August 7th, 1939, is an outstanding and comprehensive one. In the centre of the upper portion of the exhibit is a very large map of Canada showing 21 of the principal cities, the wooded area and the grain growing sections of the country. Distributed over this map are thirty pairs of game birds located in the areas where they are most commonly found. The space immediately below the map is divided into three sections. One under the heading "Research" is subdivided to illustrate eight different phases and working from left to right they are: The pioneer breeder, genetics, nutrition, economics, diseases, housing and management. This work is all portrayed by symbols with "Jack Canuck" appearing as the eighth figure who distributes information to the general poultry farm shown in a scene immediately in the centre and below the map of Canada. The reality of this is enhanced by the use of live birds which run about in the immediate foreground.

The right section of the exhibit, below the "Production." This is also shown in eight phases portraying the pioneer breeder, R.O.P. (Record of Performance) eggs laying contest; cocker approval; cocker distribution; hatchery approval, and graded chicks, with a figure of "Jack Canuck," appearing as the agent or medium for distributing the value of all this work to the general poultry farm.

In the centre and in front of the general poultry farm under the heading "Marketing" is a display which might be termed "A Mile of Poultry." The dressed birds used in this display are all graded according to the Canadian Government Standards. To the right and left of this appear sections devoted to the merchandising and grading of Canadian eggs. Both the eggs and poultry meat display convey the impression of mass production.

Running parallel to the left wall is a display which is entitled "Applied Research." This section gives an outline of some of the actual research work that is being carried on by the Dominion Department of Agriculture featuring genetics as applied to the development of a new breed. Parallel to the right wall is another display under the title "Pioneer Achievement." Here is shown a breakdown of the system followed in recording R.O.P. records showing the mechanization of tabulating, sorting and dividing into family groups by the means of modern office appliances.

In the Auditorium Building is another exhibit outlining the breeding policies that are effective throughout Canada, and recording some very important facts and figures on actual families of high producing poultry within the Dominion.

Winter Lambing Removes Breeder Handicaps

An indication of what can be done in sheep raising in winter in North Central and Southern Alberta, is given by the University of Alberta farm at Edmonton. Purebred Hampshire and Suffolk lambs born early in the year did not find the Alberta winter a handicap in making rapid growth. The first lamb was born on January 4th and lambing was distributed over January and the early part of February. This lamb reached a weight of 86 lb. on March 30, 85 days after birth, and on June 9, 45 lambs averaged 86 lb. at an average age of 121 days.

The lambs were born in pens adjacent to a room in which a stove was located and were kept in such pens for a week, after which the ewes and lambs were housed at ordinary sheep barn temperatures.

The ewes were in good condition at lambing time and after lambing were fed a ration of second cut alfalfa hay together with approximately 1 lb. daily of a mixture of whole oats 4 parts, bran 1 part, with 5 per cent linseed oil meal. This ration stimulated milk flow in the ewes and maintained them in reasonably good condition.

As soon as the lambs commenced to eat they were provided with a creep and were fed the same hay and grain mixture as the ewes were receiving. In addition they were also given access to a three compartment mineral box, one section containing salt, one ground limestone and one mono-calcium phosphate. The ewes and lambs were turned to fall rye pasture early in May and grain feeding was discontinued at that time.

How To Keep Butter Fresh In The Home

No matter how good butter may be when purchased, care should be taken to retain its sweet, delicious flavor. Butter should be stored in a cool, dry place away from any foods which have a distinct odor or flavor as it readily absorbs foreign flavors. It should be kept in a covered container or in a cellophane or parchment paper in which it is purchased.

The best place to keep butter is in the refrigerator. If one is not available the butter should be stored in a cool place as possible. Butter melts quickly at high temperature and during hot weather, in the absence of a refrigerator, the suggestion is given to tie a cord securely around each print of wrapped butter to keep the wrapper in place. Then put the prints in a crock or other container and cover with a plate, weighted down with a stone or brick. The next step is to make a brine of salt and water, used in the proportion of 2 cups salt to a gallon of boiling water. Cover the butter with the cold brine and place the crock in a cool room. Add more brine, if necessary from time to time to keep the butter covered with the salt solution. Another suggestion for storing a few prints of butter for a short time is to wrap the paper-covered prints in cloths wrung out of a salt and water solution and keep the butter in a cool place. Butter may also be stored satisfactorily by packing it in a well-sealed crock or jar, covering the butter with a clean white cloth wrung out of boiling water, then spreading a thin layer of salt over the cloth.

New Red Clover May Better Suit Bees' Tongues

For many years beekeepers have looked with sorrow at fields of red clover, rich in nectar, because owing to the shortness of honey bees' tongues and the long flower tubes, or corollas, of the clover, the bees could not reach the source of supply. At the same time, producers of red clover seed have suffered as well, for only the long-tongued bumble bees in their search for nectar could help in pollinating the seed. Bumble bees are not so numerous as they used to be, hence clover seed has also been somewhat scarce.

In an attempt to overcome both difficulties, the Dominion Experimental Farms are trying out a red clover grown in what was formerly Czechoslovakia. This clover has very short corollas and so far has stood Canadian winters fairly well. Time will tell the value of the new variety as several years of test and selection of course being necessary before it can be recommended generally. Other variety tests of red clover show the superiority of the Northern country kinds from Canada, Northern United States, and Northern Europe, over those from other countries.

MOSCOW, July 25.—Soviet Russia on Monday night rejected a Japanese memorandum of April 27, at which alleged obstructionist tactics against Japanese oil and coal concessions in the northern half of Sakhalin Island and in turn complained of a long list of violations of concessions contract and laws by the Japanese.

TOKIO, July 25.—Naval minister Mutsaers warned Monday night against excessive optimism over the Anglo-Japanese agreement and told Japanese not to believe too readily, "that Britain far eastern policy is going to change all at once." He asserted many other knotty problems between London and Tokyo remained to be adjusted.

The Farm Water Supply

An average farm family and 25 head of live stock require more than two tons of water per day. If this water is obtained from a well or cistern, the problem of pumping it is of considerable importance.

On many farms the source of the water is at some distance from the house, and the task of keeping the house supplied is one of the main chores.

There are a number of inexpensive methods of bringing water to the house. A supply tank may be constructed from which the water will flow by gravity to the faucets or a pressure tank can be obtained to force water into the house.

Some source of power is required. Where an engine is used, it is a comparatively simple matter to build a storage tank in the attic and pump water into it. From this point the water may be piped to the kitchen and bathroom. On many farms a windmill is used to pump water, and the resourceful farmer can easily devise ways and means of putting the water into the house using the wind's power.

Elaborate faucets and fixtures are unnecessary, but the presence of water in the house is not only a very great labor saver, but will promote health and comfort for the entire family.

Keep Your Eggs Cool

Recently an experimental shipment of 400 cases of eggs in a refrigerator car from London, Ont. to Montreal was closely observed by officials of the Marketing Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture. The result of the experiment was that some of the eggs reached Montreal in perfect condition but with others there was too much deterioration. Cooling of eggs on the farm as quickly as possible after they are laid proves profitable. In the experimental shipment from London, the eggs which had been cooled on the farms and had been kept cool were those which brought the best price in Montreal. The eggs that had not been pre-cooled before being shipped suffered.

Egg inspectors concluded that the shipment under refrigeration is not enough. They say that it is important to get the natural heat out of eggs as quickly as dairymen cool milk to get rid of animal heat. They recommend frequent gathering of eggs in wire baskets and immediate cooling in a cellar. Eggs should be as cool as cucumbers and just as fresh.

WEIGH THE LAMBS

Now is the time of the year when lambs should be weighed to see if they have reached desirable market weights. Lambs are deceiving to many farmers as to rapidity of their growth and actual weight. A farmer, asked to guess the weight of a lamb, put it at 80 lb. or over. The scales showed a weight of 100 lbs. There is a market outlet for all well finished lambs between 80 lbs. and 100 lbs. on pasture at a good price. Nothing tends to lower lamb prices more than the market being light, unfinished lambs. The months of July and August are profitable for the sale of good lambs. Sheep raisers will find it to their advantage to use the scales regularly so that the finished lambs can be marketed from week to week when good lamb is in demand.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD CAMERA ON THE FARM

Better farm records can be kept with the camera. One clear picture is worth many words—and record pictures such as this are easy to take.

CAMERAS as farm implements—that seems a novel idea. And yet, on any progressive farm, a camera can render unique, highly practical service.

I am not referring to snapshots for pleasure. Of course, everybody knows there are innumerable snapshot opportunities on a farm—beautiful sunset shots across the tilled fields, pleasant pasture scenes with stock grazing or drinking from a cool stream, story-telling snaps such as a hen mothering her brood, all sorts of chances, at any season. But there's another aspect to farm photography—the extremely valuable, practical aspect of keeping farm records.

Clear, detailed records play an important part in farm operations today, and usually pictures can make these records even more clear and serviceable. If your lower sixty acres makes a good crop this year, a picture will prove it. If a dam damages the roof of your new barn, a picture can show the exact nature and extent of the damage. Records of livestock growth, new building construction, crops and crop diseases, planting and harvesting operations, new equipment—all these, and more, can well be kept in picture form.

Such records are especially useful because a good clear picture is more

ALBERTA AGRICULTURAL REPORT NO. 8 FOR PERIOD ENDING JULY 24TH, 1939

Compiled by Department of Agriculture

General

During the past two weeks the prospects for heavy crop have suffered a decline due to the extremely hot, dry weather which has prevailed throughout most of the province. Only in the Peace River district and in the area north west of Edmonton has there been an improvement in conditions.

Crops made such strong vigorous growth in June and early July that they have made especially heavy demands on moisture reserves during the past two weeks of above normal temperatures. Where moisture was limited, some damage has resulted, mainly in the appearance of white caps and over most of the province rains are needed to prevent further deterioration. Fortunately, a good many local showers have occurred which are very beneficial.

Conditions in all other branches of agriculture are satisfactory. Any deterioration in pastures has not as yet been reflected in the live stock or dairy industries. Poultry is in good condition. The secretion of honey has been very heavy during the past two weeks.

No serious damage from hail or other causes has been reported.

Field Crops

Wheat is practically all headed and in the south the stubbled-in crop is turning rapidly. There is a good length of straw and heads are promising, although additional moisture must be received if the grain is to fill well. The earlier heavy growth has taxed moisture reserves to the maximum during the period of high temperatures. Colder weather or further rains are needed to alleviate these conditions.

Coarse grains are standing up well. In many districts they are fully headed and promise high yields. There have been no reports of a serious nature regarding damage. Grasshoppers are still present in a few districts, but they are not a serious menace at the present time.

Live Stock

Livestock is in good shape in all districts as a result of the favorable pasture and feed conditions. The recent hot weather has impaired the growth of pastures but this has not been reflected in any decline in the condition of the stock. Grass fed cattle are making rapid gains and promise to be in ideal shape by marketing time.

The dairy industry has not suffered as yet from the deterioration reported in pasture conditions, but a continuation of dry weather will undoubtedly decrease the flow of milk.

Poultry

Poultry continues in a strong position and young birds are making good gains. There continues to be an excess of underfinished birds on the markets.

Nectar secretion has been very heavy during most of the last two weeks. The floors are in good condition and should continue to yield for some days yet on the first crop. Though rain has interfered with the colonies gathering activities, large daily gains (20 pounds) have been registered. Extracting is in progress in southern Alberta.

Canada moved up to fourth place in importance as a source of supply for imports into the Union of South Africa, displacing Japan and coming after the United Kingdom, the U. S. and Germany, in the order named.

Dr. Motherwell Was Given Oil Portrait

At a dinner given in his honor at Regina, Sask., July 24, by former associates and admirers, Hon. Dr. W. R. Motherwell, former Provincial and Dominion Minister of Agriculture, was presented with a portrait of himself, the work of Ernest Fossberg, R.C.A., of Ottawa. Dr. Motherwell, now in his 80th year is now Member of Parliament for Melville, Sask. He was born at Perth, Ont., and soon after graduating from the Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph, went to Western Canada.

That was in the early eighties of the last century, when the West was being opened up, following the projection of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Transcontinental line. At the first general election for the legislature of the new province of Saskatchewan in 1905, he was elected as a member and upon the formation of the first Ministry of that province, was appointed Minister of Agriculture. He held that portfolio until 1918. Three years later when elected as member of the Dominion Parliament he was appointed Dominion Minister of Agriculture and continued such until 1929. Since then he has been a member of the House of Commons.

From his youth Dr. Motherwell has been a constructive and capable leader in Canadian agriculture. He now lives on his farm at Abernethy, Sask.

Flax Seed Meal For Young Calves

When late spring calves are switched from whole to skim milk the change is usually spread over a week or two. When the cream is taken off the whole milk, the calf, if given nothing but skim milk, gets a ration low in fat. A jelly made by adding pure flax seed meal to skimmed milk, makes a good, cheap substitute for the cream. The calf is still young, a tablespoonful is enough at the start. After a few days, other ingredients may be added until the following mixture is fed:

Flaxseed meal, 1 part; Ground sifted oats or feed oat meal, 2 parts; fine ground corn, 1 part, according to the Division of Animal Husbandry Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. This mixture may be used at the start with the skim milk, if it is not convenient to give the flaxseed jelly alone.

The mixture is prepared by stirring into hot water until enough of thick portion is obtained to feed the calves night and morning. Lumpiness should be avoided because the calves dislike lumpy porridge. It is better fed hot, but if it gets cold the fresh skim milk soon warms it. Start off with a tablespoonful and increase until the calves are getting a good ration twice daily at three or four months of age.

ELM WORTH NEWS

SOFTBALL GALORE

ELM WORTH, July 28.—A softball game and double header was played at Rio Grande last Sunday, when Elmworth played a mixed pick-up team consisting of some Hazelton players and some from Rio Grande. Elmworth taking home the honors by the close score of 18 to 19.

The other team was Mount Valley versus Elmworth, score being 7 to 17 in favor of Elmworth. A large and appreciative crowd was in attendance.

Elmworth sold ice cream so as to be able to pay for equipment purchased recently.

SOFTBALL DANCE AUG. 4

There will be a dance at Elmworth on August 4th, given by the softball team. Everyone invited to attend, as funds will go toward buying a new softball and bat. Ice cream to be sold and lunches.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Little Marjory Bousfield celebrated her fourth birthday on Tuesday, July 25 at her home, when a party of eleven little playmates came to wish her a happy birthday. There was a dainty birthday cake with four glowing red candles and ice cream cones. Those present were: Doreen and Marjorie Bousfield, Pat Gerry, Maureen and Marge Burnett, Marie and Maynard Ducharme, Joyce and Madeline Russell and Lila Jo Miller. Many happy returns of the day, Marjorie.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Macklin were pleasantly surprised when their daughter, Clara (Mrs. Claude Bell) came to pay them a visit from Penitence, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. H. Russell returned from their trip to the Monksman Pass last Thursday. Some what late in getting home they reported a slow trip and muddy roads.

MANY WELLS BEING DRILLED

Quite a number of drilled wells at Elmworth, those of Ducharme, S. Smoke, L. Williams, T. Quinn, R. Burnett, J. Grant and C. Ward. The well drillers come from Valhalla and are doing good work. Most of these new wells are just under the 100 ft. mark. A good supply of water is reported at most places.

The Wheat Pool meeting and lantern slides at Elmworth turned out to be very interesting also the talk given by Mr. Keith and Mr. Powell was very much enjoyed. The hall was crowded and people stood outside.

Here and There

HONG KONG, July 25.—Japanese consul at Canton has notified consular authorities of other nations that for "military reasons" the Japanese navy will close the Canton river for two weeks starting at midnight Wednesday. The move was reported to be in the nature of a blockade to cut shipping between Hong Kong and Canton.

LONDON, July 25.—British and French governments have found it impossible to reach agreement with Poland on terms of the proposed loan of eight million pounds cash loan to Warsaw. Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in the commons Tuesday. Negotiations for the cash loan hit a snag when the Poles demanded that it be made in gold. The British government desired to make the loan in sterling. Further difficulties arose over Poland's wish to have unhindered control of the disposition of the funds, whereas Britain desired to exercise some degree of control over how the funds were to be spent.

LONDON, Eng., July 25.—Both Nazi and Fascist propaganda money is behind the Irish Republican army new campaign of outrage, the revelation of which, including a plot to blow up the houses of parliament, has shocked this country. For obvious reasons, prime secretary Sir Samuel Hoare could not say who were the "foreign organizations," but police here know that some of the terrorist activities are directed from the United States and dictatorship propaganda bodies there have provided some of the money. Seized documents disclose plans for a widespread sabotage of munition and airplane factories.

Britain has 13 million subjects in the Americas.

LAKE SASKATOON

LAKE SASKATOON, July 28.—Miss Alice Sutherland and Miss Marjorie Smith are taking a holiday trip up the Monksman Pass.

Messrs. Olaf, Irving and Roy Grimsrud and Herb Beasley returned home, having made the trip by car. They reported that the roads were pretty rough but they had a good time.

Mrs. Jack Sutherland had had the misfortune to run a nail in her foot. We hope this will soon heal up and not give her too much bother.

Mr. Duncan has returned from Edmonton, where he was called by the sudden death of his sister, Mrs. G. Bittorf. News reached him on his return home that Mr. Bittorf had also passed away after an operation, of which he seemed to be recovering quite nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Bittorf are the parents of Mrs. Georgie Lowe of scenic Heights. We offer our sincerest sympathy to Mrs. Lowe and Mr. Duncan in this great loss.

Mrs. Jim McFarlane also had a sudden call to Edmonton on the death of her mother. Our deepest sympathy goes to Mrs. McFarlane from all members of the Community Club.

The Sports Club held a dance at the Memorial Hall last Friday night. Though the door receipts may not have been all that they hoped for all who attended enjoyed themselves.

The Masonic banquet is being held at the Memorial hall on Tuesday, August 1st.

THE LAKE TEAM WINS OVER WEMBLEY IN SOFTBALL

The last softball league game was held at Cooper's Point last week, when Lake Saskatoon played the Wembley Whites, defeating them, the score standing 16 to 8. This was a very good game and the Lake boys are surely working up a good softball team. Special mention must be made of their pitcher, Bryce Campbell.

Miss Nancy Boyd of Crystal Creek is visiting at the Monksman home at Cut Bank Lake.

Mrs. Fred Frewer and Mrs. Capt. Roberts were delegates to the W. A. conference held at Athabasca.

Mr. Ted Cooper had the misfortune to upset the car he was driving. Fortunately none of his passengers were seriously hurt.

COMMUNITY CLUB PICNIC WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL

The Community Club picnic that was to be held at Fred Webber's at Lake Saskatoon Island, Sunday the 16th was postponed till the following Sunday on account of the rain. Quite a number of the club members and their families turned out and after strolling round Mr. Webber's beautiful flower garden repaired to the lake side, where a long table was spread with many good things, which was much enjoyed by all, especially by three gentlemen, who, on sitting down together at one side of the table, found cups of lemonade, salads and cakes coming their way as if by magic. The only disappointing incident was that Mr. Konshak could not find an ant in his salad; better luck at the Oldtimers' picnic, Len.

The Rev. and Mrs. Sanddercock visited many of the homes at Lake Saskatoon last week.

Miss Magdalene Pitechko of Wembley visited the E. Hopkin's home on Sunday and took in the picnic at Mr. Webber's.

Mrs. Sebastian has enlarged her family and is cooking for about 50 young people at the Island camp.

Rural cooperative companies in Canada operate approximately 62,000, or 3 per cent, of the telephones in the Dominion, with a total investment of $19,193,394.

Harry: "You don't call yourself a good fisherman as Jones, do you?" Tom: "Of course not. Look at the long arms he's got for describing his catches."

The Difference

"Now look here, son," said a parent to his boy sternly, "when I was your age I was at the head of my class."

"Ah," responded the lad, "perhaps teachers were easier to fool then than they are now!"

FIELD DAY AT SEXSMITH ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 5

A field day will be held at Sexsmith, Saturday, August 5, commencing at 2 p.m. at the Crop-Testing Plant demonstration plot, situated in the field opposite the elevators.

Last spring different varieties of grain were sown, and Mr. Foulds, provincial cerealist, will inspect and lecture on same. This lecture will be very instructive, and all farmers are cordially invited to attend.

SEXSMITH PARTY HAVE A THRILLING EXPERIENCE IN SUNDAY'S ELECTRIC STORM

Last Sunday a number of Sexsmith citizens travelled to Swan Lake, and points west, such as Pouce Coupe and Dawson Creek. Mr. C. of the passengers and with skipper, Mr. Naughton in his good ship, the truck and the balance going with Mr. Andy Wilson.

The outward voyage was everything that could be desired, and all enjoyed themselves. Just about the time the return trip was getting under way, an electric storm broke loose, and owing to same, the voyagers were forced out of their course, and finally landed on a reef somewhere in the vicinity of Cris Helgason's farm, where after inspection, the skipper ordered all hands to abandon ship.

The old traditions were followed, and it was a case of women and children first, with the skipper the last to leave. No lives were lost. The passengers and crew were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Miss Gwen Wilson, Mrs. Featherstone, Wally and Ray, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stephens and Letha; Mr. and Mrs. Fred McNaughton, Gordon, Freddie and Hughie; Mr. and Mrs. C. SEXSMITH TERRIERS LOSE TO PORTEOUS TIGERS 16 TO 12

A softball game last Tuesday between Porteous Tigers of Grande Prairie and Sexsmith Terriers resulted in a win for the former by 16 to 12. At the end of the 7th, the score was 10-8, then Sexsmith made or less "biew up" with the above result. The batteries were Rempie and Anderson for Grande Prairie, and Stewart and McNaughton for Sexsmith. Vic Spicer was the umpire.

MOTHER OF D. SUTHERLAND DIES AT GRENFELL, SASK.

Mrs. Dave Sutherland received a wire from her father from Grenfell, Sask., on Sunday morning, telling of the death of her mother, Mrs. T. Simpkinson. Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland left immediately by car for Grenfell, to attend the funeral.

FRUIT IS GREAT STUFF FOR WHATEVER AILS YOU, SAYS DON INNES, JUST RETURNED

Mr. and Mrs. Don Innes, Miss Mary Innes and Miss Kay returned by car last week, after spending about four weeks at the west coast. During their travels, they visited Penticton, and saw Jack McKay and Bill Turner, and the latter part of his holidays with Mrs. Taylor.

TOM MEEN WINS 100 YARD DASH AT CALGARY SPORTS

Word has just been received that Tom Meen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Meen of Sexsmith, won the 100-yard dash at the Highland sports at Calgary, Saturday, July 29th. His time was 10 1/5 seconds, which is only half a second more than the Olympic record. He also came second in the 220 yards. Tom expects to attend the Provincial meet at Taber, sometime in September.

TWO MEN CARRY SHINERS

One of our prominent moose hunters—in fact we might say our most prominent—gave a demonstration last Thursday evening as to the handling of a moose when this animal would not play the game according to the rules. The two men who represented the moose each have a shiner.

The demonstrator is no doubt getting into shape for his annual hunt, which generally takes place sometime around the first snowfall, providing it comes within the hunting season.

KNOWS HIS FISH

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith and Isabel left last week for somewhere along the Monkmann Pass road, where they will spend two weeks' holidays, coming out. Bill, who was born in Nova Scotia, should know his fish, and no doubt will spend the major part of his time making life miserable for this class of fauna.

SEXSMITH LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roberts and family returned last Thursday evening from Slave Lake, where they have been camping for the last three weeks. Roy reports some good fishing at the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Warden left by Friday's train for their home in Tacoma, Wash., after having visited the last two weeks with Mr. Warden's parents.

Mrs. Featherstone and two sons, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilson, left on Tuesday's train for their home in Smith Falls, Ontario.

POLICE FIND CROWDS AT NEW YORK FAIR WELL BEHAVED

The World of Tomorrow take it from the police and hospital authorities, is a peaceful sort of place where nothing much ever happens in the way of crime and illness is virtually unknown.

Although on July 8, 12,000,000 persons had passed through the New York World's Fair gates since the April opening, only five had been arrested and only 37 required hospital treatment.

The arrests, said Chief Inspector Richard Sheridan of the fair police, were all for misdemeanors, such as those of the uninhibited gentlemen who stripped and went swimming in a fountain pool at 3 a.m. and the high flier who clambered up the parachute-jumping tower after the closing hour, got scared, and had to be helped down.

None of the arrests has been for drunkenness, however, and if there are any "we intend to sober 'em up," remarked the chief.

The job is a yawn-producer. Pickpockets? They haven't got a chance, opined the chief. Camera-eyed plainclothesmen stand just inside the gates and bounce the "dips" promptly back into the world of today.

We wait until they get inside, explained Sheridan, because it's a pleasure to take the 75-cent admission fee from a pickpocket.

During 27 years of swimming competition, Joe Ruddy, of New York A.C., scored 1,650 first places.

POSTMASTERS OF NORTH MEET IN GRANDE PRAIRIE ON AUGUST 16TH AND 17TH

The Peace River Postmasters' convention will be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Grande Prairie, on Wednesday and Thursday, August 16 and 17.

According to the president, L. McDonald of Clairmont, who was in Grande Prairie on Monday, it is expected that a number of the Dominion and provincial officers will be present. An entertainment program is being arranged.

STURGEON HEIGHTS

STURGEON HEIGHTS, Aug. 1.—From now on, there won't be much local news, everyone is busy picking berries, and like the ants, storing up for winter.

Mary Walther, who has been working for J. Harrington, has gone to Valleyview for the rest of the holidays.

Marguerite Fair entertained her friends last week in honor of her twelfth birthday. Swimming was the main diversion.

Mrs. J. Crotty has returned to Grande Prairie. Her grandson, Wm. Harrington, went with her for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Lewis and Jack were Grande Prairie visitors last Thursday.

WHAT HAPPENED TO A MAN WHO WAS FLAGGED ON THE HIGHWAY—IT DON'T PAY

"He looks like a clean-cut young fellow; let's give him a ride."

That's what many people say daily when they are flagged by some hitch-hiker on the highways, and that's what George G. Hall, a Detroit oil promoter, remarked to his companion when a young man of good appearance thumbed them near Grand Rapids a few days ago.

And what happened? The clean-cut young fellow took the back seat behind Hall and his companion. They chatted amiably enough for some time and then a report rang out. Without warning or provocation, the clean-cut young fellow had shot the owner of the car in the back in a particularly cowardly manner. The young woman with him (who was at the wheel) was ordered to keep quiet and to continue to drive. When she finally surrendered the wheel to the "clean-cut young fellow" it was to allow Hall to die in her arms.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

CLIMAX OF HITLER'S CAREER WILL BE REACHED IN SEPT. SAYS THE ASTROLOGERS

Chancellor Hitler maintains an advisory staff of five astrologers, to read the stars and tell him what the future holds. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler said on arriving at New York from Europe.

"At the present time," Dr. Butler said, "the advice of these wise men is that the climax of Hitler's career will come early in September and that whatever he is to do to add to his fame must be done before that date."

"This may sound like nonsense, but is the sort of nonsense which may easily give to modern civilization another terrible shock."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this opportunity of thanking all friends and relatives for the many deeds of kindness shown and beautiful floral tributes given in the loss of our beloved son and brother. We also wish to thank the staff of the Grande Prairie Municipal Hospital for their never tiring efforts during our lengthy period of illness.

HUALLEN NEWS

HUALLEN, Aug. 1.—Crops are beginning to show signs of ripening. The weather has been very hot and last Sunday evening a thunderstorm preceded a very heavy downpour of rain that covered most of the district. Between now and farmers are trying to do a little haying.

Some visitors from the outside arrived in the district the past weekend. Among whom were Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Wudl of Stony Plain, who are guests at the Schadeck home, also Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schultz of Vancouver, who are visiting at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Philip Hennig.

SOFTBALL NEWS

The first of the playoff games for the championship of the Big Six League between Millarston and HualLEN took place last Friday evening at Millarston. The game was keenly contested most of the way and there was not much to choose between the two teams except in the fourth inning, when two bad fumbles by HualLEN allowed Millarston to get three runs home. In all the other innings, play was of the air-fight variety, with the home team scoring was small. The game ended in Millarston's favor, 5 to 2.

In the second game at HualLEN a large and enthusiastic crowd of fans gathered to watch the contest. We witnessed one of the best and hardest fought games of softball ever played here. The score at the end of the seventh inning was 8 to 8. Millarston going to bat in the first of the eighth soon wilted before the devastating delivery of pitcher Ted Thoreson, and failed to score. Then HualLEN came to bat and were down and nobody on bases, when Otto Schadeck hit a three bagger and later scored on a sacrifice hit by Ted Thoreson. Millarston went again to bat and the first half of the ninth and failed again to score and the game was over, score 9 to 8. Did the crowd go wild? We'll say they did, evidently enjoying the expertly and humbly the remarkable Millarston team who had only tasted defeat once before and that at the hands of HualLEN.

As a result of Sunday's game, another game will be played to decide the series and this will take place on Saturday evening, August 5th at the Wembley sports grounds. So be on hand, fans, to give the boys all the encouragement you can. Win or lose, HualLEN will be there doing their best. May the best team win.

Playing softball of Big Six League calibre, Lower Beaver Lodge trimmed Klondike Trail 19 to 5 in a week-end game.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Deering and Miss Mary Jane Hamel drove over to Beaver Lodge last Sunday. Miss Hamel is staying over for a few days visiting at the home of her uncle, Fred Hamel and family.

Dinner guests at the J. O. Stegmaier home last Sunday included the Hawthorne Bros. and ye scribe.

Geo. Gitzel is breaking on his farm about 20 acres. He also broke some land for Jack Penny.

Mrs. Alf. Childs of Grande Prairie is visiting her daughter, Anne, for a few days.

HualLEN ladies' softball team has changed Lake Saskatchewan for the Reynolds' cup and the game will be played Saturday evening at Wembley.

SEEN 'N HEARD—Through the

Knobole

Well done HUALLEN. You fairly earned your victory over Millarston Sunday and you all turned in a good game. We know the MILLARSTON boys didn't grudge you the win, although it seemed to be quite a shock to them. We heard that HOMER HERB ROBERTSON and M. HOPKINS as neutral officials, handled the game efficiently, so there was no reason for "beefin'" about the umpiring. That we heard HOMER couldn't keep his mind on the sermon, thinking about the game. We listened in on some of the Millarston boys trying to figure out who was the CULPRIT responsible for the play that lost them the game (don't be too hard on him boys). We noticed our fair scorekeeper taking a moment of the Millarston team after the game. They say GORDON C. went swimmin' with the women last Sunday afternoon, and that last Friday night JIM W. was doing a "little stepin'" on the dance floor at the Aspen Dale school last Friday night and speaking for ourselves. We had a good time, but what happened to the coffee? and the lunch. We missed making in the OLDTIMERS' dance this year, but they say ART W. was there with bells on. FRED D. was also at the picnic and found the bathing beautiful. That were on parade a centre of attraction. We hear some grain companies are treating farmers to free picture shows what we would like to see grain prices "movie" upward giving us something worthwhile to "talkie" about.

NEW ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN OPERATED BY ELECTRIC EYE FIRES 50 SHELLS A MINUTE

New anti-aircraft guns aimed by an electric eye and capable of hurling 56-pound shells seven miles at a rate of 50 a minute, now ring London, the London Star, evening newspaper, declared.

The newspaper said every airplane coming near the city day or night is reported and "covered" by these guns as practice manoeuvre.

The crew is 50 yards from its gun, the Star said, and spots a plane by a detector. A pointer tells the crew the correct elevation and taking into account the speed of the aeroplane.

PIPESTONE CREEK

Many Operations Performed By Clinic Staff

PIPESTONE CREEK, July 29.—The arrival of Dr. Bridge and his capable staff on Wednesday afternoon last marked the start of the greatest event in local history.

Following the selection of a suitable camp site the clinic staff set to work preparing for the examination of children on the following day.

Many parents who had long distanced to come also arrived on Wednesday night and camped out.

Considerably over two hundred children arrived on Thursday from 7:30 a.m. till 2:30 p.m., and those between 4 and 16, numbering 172, were given a thorough medical examination.

Starting at 8 a.m. next morning and continuing till 7:30 p.m., a total of 44 minor operations were performed. Teeth extractions numbered 88 and teeth fillings 77. The number of anaesthetics administered was 55.

At one period during Friday afternoon the accommodation in five tents and two bunk-houses was taxed to capacity until operations were suspended for a short while to enable the chief surgeon to do the rounds of the tents and discharge a number of small patients.

The following staff were employed in the work of preparation before the advent of the clinic and during their stay: Harold Hosker, Arthur Hosker, Keith Gerow, Mr. Gerow, Marion Sanders, Lewis Hawkes, Vic Elford, Percy Elliott, Duke Bumstead.

Restaurant service was in charge of Mrs. Sanders, assisted by Miss Peggy Gerow.

Mentioned in Dispatches

The central committee wish to thank everybody present for their willing cooperation and assistance, and would like to point out that these efforts were much appreciated by the staff of the clinic.

Special mention must be made of Mr. Roland S. Young, who gave two and a half days of his time and proved invaluable. Also the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wood, Mr. Bradley, Mrs. Elliott, Mr. Herb Riggs, the Millarston W.I. and all local committees.

Thanks are due to Mr. A. L. Osborne for several tents, also to Mr. McQuarrie and to Vic Elford and Lewis Hawkes for erecting the tents.

The efficient and smooth working of the travelling clinic will long be remembered by local inhabitants. Dr. Bridge, a surgeon of wide experience in the operative field, was assisted by Dr. Margolis. The work of filling teeth was undertaken by Dr. Ross, who by a coincidence worked in Ross cottage.

Dr. Gilchrist, in charge of examination and extractions under anaesthetic, received a telegram during his stay here to the effect that he has been elected a fellow of the College of Dental Surgeons.

Dr. Watkinson, senior district nurse of the Department of Public Health, headed the very nifty-looking nursing staff, that included Miss Waddell, D.N., and Miss Copestake, R.N. Miss Watkinson, after a four years' war record saw service in India and has previously spent some years as a district nurse in parts of the Peace River country.

Several local bachelors applied for jobs as assistants on the clinic and expressed their willingness to work for their board.

Student helpers on the clinic included Mr. Beauchamp in his first year at the University of Alberta Medical College.

Dr. Bridge, interviewed before leaving for Valhalla, expressed his sincere gratification on behalf of himself and his staff for the splendid cooperation given by the natives. It is the sincere desire of the clinic to cooperate to the fullest extent possible with local practitioners where such exist, and it is always our aim to leave a district feeling confident that our visit has been of benefit to the children.

"To avoid any possibility of the necessity of complications or otherwise, it has always been the policy of the Department of Public Health to avoid performing any operations that might involve any such after-care."

"It is with regret, therefore, that I leave you today realizing that there are some children whom we have been unable to look after. The Department of Public Health, however, has now an interest in any such children and are willing when necessary to assist your local doctor to attend to these cases."

Dr. Bridge commented favorably on the general physique of the children of the district, which was the best yet seen during his extensive travels throughout Alberta this summer. He considered the children's growth and appearance to be largely due to the plentiful use of fresh whole milk and vegetables.

The value of the work performed by the clinic totalled nearly six hundred dollars. Of this amount ten per cent was paid in. This percentage, stated the clinic office staff, is higher than at any point previously visited by the clinic.

The clinic staff enjoyed a swim in the capiti before leaving here for Valhalla.

WANHAM NEWS

OLD-TIME FIDDLERS' CONTEST AT WANHAM A BIG SUCCESS

WANHAM, July 31.—The old-time fiddlers' contest put on by the Wanham Community Hall and Sports Association was more of a success than even the most optimistic member of the committee in charge had expected.

The following entrants competed for the honor of being the best fiddler of the day: E. H. Prevost, Wanham; L. C. Tansem, Eaglesham; Michael Brown, Rycroft; Bun Fortier, Belloy; Bud Metz, Wanham; St. Pierre Ferguson, Belloy; P. Tansem, Wanham; L. Metz, Wanham; Ross Archibald, Belloy; Reuben Metz, Wanham; Bud Rutherford, Prestville; L. W. Hoeght, Wanham; H. Ferguson, White Mountain; Leo. Fowler, Wanham; Fred Williams, Spirit River; Alex. Woronuk, Rycroft; Palmer Larson, Fox Creek.

Six others who entered were unable to be present for various reasons.

The following acted as judges: Wm. Trompeter, Wanham; Fred Murphy, Wanham, and M. Jasbec, Belloy.

The entire contest was broadcast by short wave radio through the facilities of Radio Station CFGP, with their portable transmitter and rebroadcast over CFGP on their regular wave length.

It is many a day since the old-timers enjoyed themselves as they did here last Friday night. They turned out from near and far to have a good time and certainly showed their appreciation of the efforts of the contestants.

The judges had the hardest part of the whole program in picking the winners, and while they were reaching a decision all the contestants under the direction of Ross Archibald of Belloy, treated the audience to some real old-time orchestra music, and they certainly showed that it was appreciated by calling for more.

The winners of the contest were: First prize, $5, Alex. Woronuk, Rycroft; second prize, $3, Pete Tansem, Wanham; third prize, $2, L. C. Tansem, Eaglesham.

After the contest everyone enjoyed the dance with their favorite contestants playing their requests. It was the largest turn-out for a dance that has ever been seen in the local hall and if the association had not just enlarged the hall it would have been impossible to take care of the crowd. Dancing continued until 5 a.m., with, we hope, everyone satisfied and voting it the best ever had at Wanham.

Thanks are due in charge of Messrs. Berry, Sinclair and Powell of CFGP staff.

BISHOP LANGLOIS PAYS WANHAM PASTORAL VISIT

WANHAM, July 31.—On Sunday, July 29, Bishop Langlois, Vicar Apostolic of Grouard, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to a class of 79 at Spirit River mission and to a class of 17 at Wanham in the evening, and also to a class of 27 at Webster on Monday, July 24.

At Spirit River, on Sunday morning, at 10:30, Bishop Langlois celebrated Pontifical High Mass, assisted by the following: Rev. Father H. Marcotte, O.M.I., as deacon; Rev. Father J. Michalowski, O.M.I., as sub-deacon; Rev. Father, A. Valieres, O.M.I., as assistant; and Rev. Brother Paquet, O.M.I., as master of ceremonies, as well as five altar boys. The altar was very beautifully decorated by the ladies of the parish, and the ceremony was very impressive.

The St. Patrick's Church choir of Wanham, under the direction of E. J. Harrington, with Mrs. R. Cameron at the organ, rendered the beautiful St. Basil's Mass and other hymns during the service, which commenced at 10:30 with a procession from the rectory to the church, with the choir chanting the "Magnificat." At the church door the Bishop and his assistants were received by the pastor, Fr. Vallieres, and after the opening ceremony addresses of welcome were read to the Bishop on behalf of the parishioners in both English and French.

At the finish of the Mass the Bishop spoke to those who were to receive Confirmation, and also thanked the parishioners for their most hearty welcome, after which he administered the Sacrament of Confirmation. This was followed by Benediction.

The church was packed full and there was a crowd standing on the front porch during the whole service, unable to get inside. A large number brought their lunch and a picnic was held on the grounds.

At 5:30 p.m. the Bishop was welcomed to Wanham with a garden party on the grounds of Mrs. E. Prevost's residence, at which over a hundred were present, and everyone enjoyed the lunch, which was supplied by the Wanham ladies.

At 7 p.m. all those present proceeded to the church, which was blessed and officially opened by the Bishop as St. Patrick's Church. An address of welcome was

PLAY SUITS TO KEEP YOU COOL AND COMFORTABLE IN SUMMER

Here are three outfits you'll find ideal for summer wear. They will keep you cool, make you feel comfortable and are among the latest "brainchilds" of fashion designers. The gingham play dress worn by Paulette Goddard produces glamor with its open midriff, full skirt and the nice top effect. The material is red and gray plaid. Peggy Carroll wears the costume of raw silk. The blouse is cinnamon brown with flash pockets trimmed in chartreuse. The pleater shorts are of the same brown. The overalls and big straw hat are perfect for beach or for gardening. It is a pattern taken from the southwestern Pueblo Indians.

Kinuseo Falls Lodge Is Rapidly Becoming Very Popular Resort

Though only opened a few weeks ago, already Kinuseo Falls Lodge is a popular holiday resort in the Peace River section of the Rocky Mountains.

Last year the fine camping site at the head of the Falls was a wilderness, but since spring it has been transformed into a paradise, with trails leading from one haven of rest to another.

A natural boulevard fronts the river and along it hiker or pony rider can ramble for miles upstream, with snow-capped mountains guarding either side.

In the approximately twenty mile stretch of swiftly flowing stream from below the Falls to Monksman Lake the fisherman will find some of the best fishing pools and riffles in the Rockies. Moose, caribou and goat abound on the mountains and in the valleys of this panoramic wonderland. Wild berries are also abundant.

Kinuseo Falls Lodge is operated by the Monksman Pass Transport Limited. Alex. Watt is president and Bruce Albright secretary.

Among the many visitors to the Lodge so far this season, the following left their names:

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Andrews and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adams, Maxine and George, also George Bond, all of Beaver Lodge.

Miss M. Watt, Beaver Lodge.

All Stars Defeat Fire Fighters In Softball Game

The All-stars defeated the Fire-fighters in a softball game at Recreation Park on Sunday afternoon.

Both teams turned in snappy ball, the All-stars winning by a close margin. Tom Crosby made a satisfactory umpire.

Following the game, all players sojourned to the exhibition grounds, where the pony was pasturing, and after looking the little fellow over, declared that he was perfect in every way. In fact he was judged the best ever.

It is understood that the All-stars will use the pony as a mascot for the balance of the season.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is I Corinthians 2:11. One of the Scriptural citations is "Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God" (II Corinthians 3:5). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "Man is tributary to God, Spirit, and to nothing else. God's being is infinity, freedom, harmony and boundless bliss. Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. Like the archpriests of yore, man is free to enter into the holiest—the realm of God" (p.481).

Dear Departed
A war story concerns an Irish mother who was met in the village by a priest. She was looking sad and the priest asked: "Have you had bad news, Mrs. O'Doherty? I hope nothing's wrong with your son at the front."

"Sure, my news is terrible bad," was the reply.
"Don't tell me you have had word from the War Office."

"No, no, I received word from himself."

"But how could you do that?" asked the perplexed priest.

"Sure and he sent me a letter. He says in it: 'Dear mother, I'm now in the Holy Land.'"

C. G. I. T. -- Lake Saskatoon Camp Paper

CAMP
Hurrah! We're here at last! Forgetting everything that's passed. Wahoo greets us with a smile. And leads us off in single file.

In our cabin go our bags. Then we read the list of fags. Mother Mochie is a dear. Always spreading round good cheer.

Pow-wow has the cutest dimple. To understand her it is simple. Birdie is our song bird sweet. Singing us to sleep, our dreams are sweet.

Cutie is the cutest here. She wears a kerchief for her head gear. We all are fond of Daddy Jim. The cook gets lot of help from him.

Witchie's our nurse so good. Sometimes she doesn't get much food. And then comes Minnie with her smile. From cabin to cabin, she walks a mile.

We've had a jolly time at camp. Although our suits are often damp. But now we must go to our home. And now we must close off our poem.

CABIN "7"
Cabin seven has such silly times. They're always making such jolly rhymes. Georgine took a tumble from the upper bed. And landed with a bump on Joyce's head.

Kelly's our mascot and everyone knows. That when she drinks orange juice it runs out her nose. The other two left from our cabin so great. Are Margaret and Jean who for meals can't wait.

Now everyone's happy except Ma. Who received a great sunburn when trying to tan.

THAT PIECE OF BREAD
Who cut that monstrous hunk of bread? That guy with the tousled curly head. He's very popular with the girls. And they like to take pictures of his curls.

All the girls call him Daddy Jim. And we don't know what we'd do without him.

TENT INSPECTION
Shame, shame, double shame. The leaders have lost all their fame. For they came in last with a mark of three. They should have got twenty like all the rest.

'Cause they are oldest and should be best. By "Three Musketeers"—Joyce, Jean, Mary Low

OUR HIKE
We hiked away On a lovely summer day. To the big rock by the lake. We had a little lunch.

And we ate bread twists. 'Till our stomachs ached. And we had to go to bed.

MIS-FORTUNES
May we extend our sympathies to Olive Foote who sprained her arm very badly on Sunday. Olive is a good sport and makes no fuss.

"Birdie" twisted her ankle on Friday on our hike, but even then she kept on leading in the singing.

"Mary Sims" of cabin five, ate too many saskatoons on Sunday. Let this be a warning to other campers.

Alma Clarkson is the most unfortunate girl in camp. Everyone of the forty-nine girls will be able to tell of the different things she has lost.

"Witchie" sprained her ankle, but she still teaches the swimming class in spite of this.

SEEN AND HEARD ABOUT CAMP
Cabin Five gets the reward for the best peppers after the silence whistle. We never knew before that Olive Foote was heavy until the boards of her bed fell down and knocked Elsie Mills on the head.

Mary Lou Searcy was thirteen years old on July 19. We had a birthday party for her.

TIME JULY 16-25
Our group's name is the Walla Walla. We made up a song and a yell. The yell—
We are the Walla Walla. You've heard so much about. We're noted for our wisdom. And the clever things we do. Most everybody likes us. And I'm sure you'll like us too.

Our Yell
Walla, Walla, Walla, Wal-lay. We're the bravest tribe they say. Revo, Rivo, sis, boom, bah. We're the Walla Walla. Rah! Rah! Rah!

INITIATION NIGHT
The initiation was on Wednesday night. The chief braves put the blankets on the new campers, although most of the chief braves had so much to do holding on to their own blankets, that the others only got half initiated.

In the centre of the circle there was a beautiful camp fire, and five small ones surrounded it. The initiation was a never-to-be-forgotten night. The sincere way of putting things on will reign in the heart of every C.G.I.T. camper.

Blackfeet and Sioux battle Over the rivers and valleys. In Canada's days of yore, Marched a band of Indian tribesmen. They were on their way to war.

They were wearing the brightest of colors. With head-dresses many and new. They were beating their tom-toms and chanting. Of what they'd all like to do.

They were wandering hither and thither. Not knowing just what to do. When a shot rang out from the forest it killed but one of their crew.

They were mystified where it had come from. But their leader, brave Wa-Hoo, he knew. That it came from their enemies hide-out. Most likely from Cree or from Sioux.

A scout was sent by fierce Wa-Hoo. And when he came back he told. They were planning to attack at midnight. And were near the "Valley of gold."

Then at a warning from Wa-Hoo. They all crouched down on their knees. And approached the Indian hideout. Where were camped the Sioux and the Crees.

Now where the Crees were established. Was a very poor place to retreat. So when the Blackfeet approached them. 'Twas easy for them to beat.

Indians is the theme of our camp. And we hope we never will act. Like long ago Blackfeet and Cree did. No doubt we're a C.G.I.T. pact.

DRAMATICS GROUP
Minnie-ha-cha's (Miss Laura Johnson) dramatics group put on a religious pageant on Sunday July 23. In it acquaintances of Jesus, told of their experience with Him. The group was well pleased with their efforts and as a reward they received an extra marshmallow at the camp fire that night.

On Monday, Minnie-ha-cha read us two very interesting stories.

INTERNATIONAL DAY
On International Day each cabin was supposed to represent some nationality and to wear a costume for supper. After supper we sang Dutch, Scotch, Irish and other songs from all countries that were represented. Then we went to Vespers and when we came back we had a program in the "Big Lodge." Each cabin was supposed to contribute something to the program. Cabin seven did a play and a dance. The leaders were dressed as gypsies and did a dance and told fortunes.

—By Marion Bunyan

ALGONQUAINS
Our leader is "Chief Minnie-ha-cha" and our tribal brave is Margaret McMillan. The Algonquins original tribal song is as follows: We're the Algonquins on the lake, on the lake, on the lake.

And we are jolly all the while, all the while, all the while. And we're carefree, happy all the day. Whether we're at work or play.

CAMP
After a week of packing, Saturday night came and we all took our baggage to White's and packed it so that we could get an early start. That night there was a little rain, but since it hadn't rained for so long, everyone was glad. The next morning though the rain still poured down and kept it up for three days. Were our faces long? All this time every one laughed except us. Farmers especially, wore their happiest smiles.

At last on Thursday morning we got packed and started out with happy faces. Before we got very far the car stalled for a while but gave up when it saw we were determined. After that all went well and we arrived O.K.

Camp has been a thrill from the beginning but now our good time is drawing to a close and we will have to say good-bye. However, a happy group of girls look forward to meeting their friends again next year.

AN INTERNATIONAL DAY POEM
At supper, International day. Everyone had something to say—The French, Gypsies, Japs and Dutch. Oh everyone did talk so much. Jimmy, our daddy did cut the bread. And boy, did we make him red? Norma got a great big piece. And gave a piece to somebody's niece. Then her bread she sure did dunk. And Jimmy certainly now was sunk. Boy did we fire him with a broom. And tiny Jim blushed like a bloom.

—By Alice Henning

DANCING
In dancing class we made quite a bit of progress and had heaps of fun. "Pow Wow" (Miss Irene Johnson) first taught us "How do you do my partner." Next we learned "The Injun." So fitting to our theme. The final dance was a military tap. Everyone in the class should now have more dancing talent than when they came.

WO-HE-LO
The Wo-He-Lo tribe, the name standing for Work, Health and Love have studied Mark's story the leadership of "Birdie" (Miss June Thompson). They also made applications to personal life from the "Girls' Everyday Book." Their group poem is:

W is for Doris, her last name is White. In sports and dramatic she's alright. O is for one of our smallest braves, Myrtle likes popcorn and candy she craves.

H is for Hugel, her first name is Mabel. Her manners are good when she's at. E is for eats which we all like a lot. Especially our leader whom we cannot stop.

L is for Lowe, who is learning to swim. Sometimes she's frightened of jumping right in. O is for outdoor games we all play. Alma is at them throughout the day.

"Wo" is for work which we all have to do. The Norma's think they'll never get through. "He" is for health which Beth keeps in store.

She joins in the fun, but is looking for more. "Lo" is for love which means Joyce and Jean. Wherever you see them their smiles are seen. Wo-he-lo bunch is the snappiest tribe. With Myrtle as brave and Norma as scribe.

SUNDAY NIGHT
Minnie-ha-cha's group built the camp-fire. After Vespers we went to the camp-fire, where the dramatics group put on a pageant. After this we had a sing-song and Minnie-ha-cha read us a story. We next had a marshmallow-roast and then went to bed. A few marshmallows fell into the fire and even the odd one found its way into somebody's hair. Could it be Muriel Sharpe?

HANDICRAFT
The handicraft interest group consists of ten ambitious girls under the leadership of "Chief Cutie" (Miss E. Hill). During camp we made attractive brush-holders from oilcloth and celluloid dolls. We also learned how to make porch cushions from inner tires.

POEM BY "POW-WOW'S" GROUP
(The Meri-ka-chaks)
Our leader chief is Pow-Wow. She never lets us make a row. We're all so very bad at times. She then sets us to making rhymes.

We have a class of nine in number. And sometimes the girls forget to. The "silence" whistle blows at ten. No whispers to be heard again.

OUR CAMP SONG
"Some other camp may surpass us. But as the years come and go. We'll cherish camp day memories. And all the friends that we love so. Memories that linger, constant and true. Memories to cherish—"Lake Saskatoon of you."

SPEND AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER in the Rocky Mountains

KINUSEO FALLS

Kinuseo Falls Lodge Now Open

This delightful summer holiday retreat in the Rocky Mountains opened its doors to the public for the first time last month, but it is already a popular rendezvous for sightseer, fisherman and mountain climber, for its well-built and charming log cabins are perfect places to rest in while enjoying the Monksman Pass paradise of mountain, lake and stream.

Nearby are the now famous Kinuseo Falls, higher than Niagara. At this point the Murray River plunges over a cliff into the valley far below, and roar of the mighty volume of falling water is heard miles away. At the Lodge, however, its hushed voice lulls one to peaceful sleep.

Leading to the Falls is Tarzan Boulevard, so named because the first sightseers had almost to swing from tree limb to tree limb to get over it. Now, cleared of its deadfall, it is possible to walk for miles along the Murray River and enjoy the refreshing scene of mountain and stream.

Farther along the trail is Monksman Creek, the beauty of which only awaits a poet's coming to become famous the world over. Flowing swiftly along in a smother of white water from one emerald green pool to another, in almost endless succession, it is in truth the bejewelled necklace of Monksman Pass, its glory and its pride.

Then comes Monksman Lake, and then Ice Mountain, from whose glaciers and icy slopes flows water that knows not at birth whether it is going to the balmy breezes of the Pacific or the frigid blasts of the Arctic.

Make it a point to visit this new tourist country this summer or fall. Transportation rates and other information can be obtained from—

ALEX. WATT, President.

There is a competent packer and guide at the Lodge, with saddle and pack ponies for hire. Trips through the Pass to Prince George can be arranged.

At the 19th Hole

Thirty-five cars at one time were parked at Richmond Hill golf course last Sunday and there was a large turn-out of players. A breeze from the east in the early part of the day and a hot sun overhead made it ideal for good golf. In the afternoon the breeze faded away and the heat became terrific, and quite a number of players spent their time enjoying the scenery, seated in the cool shade of the clubhouse.

Low cards of 39 were posted by Larry Cobb and Pro. Stevenson.

OPEN JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

On Sunday, August 6, the Open Junior Championship for the Grande Prairie district will be commenced with eight entries. In order to promote more interest, the Junior Golf Association has presented a beautiful trophy, 24 inches high, for annual competition. The draw is as follows:

E. Parrish vs. B. James.
D. Letourneau vs. J. Edwards.
D. Law vs. D. Butchart.
M. Bird vs. Bob Butchart.

The match and handicap committee would like this competition played out to the hilt, which will be completed the following Sunday. Eighteen holes match play up to finals and 36 holes for final game.

MEN'S CLUB CHAMPIONSHIP

On Sunday, August 6, the qualifying rounds in the Men's Club Championship will be played, and the competition will be run off on August 13. The committee would like to see all cards posted in order to have the draw made early.

Gordon Orr came within two feet of making an eagle on hole seven last Sunday, but sunk the ball for a birdie.

Local and General

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Archibald left by car on Wednesday morning to visit the World's Fair at San Francisco.

Ernie Law left on Tuesday's train to enjoy a holiday at Banff. He was accompanied by his daughter Esther as far as Edmonton. Miss Esther accompanied by her sister Hilda, will return on Friday.

H. A. George, Bill Davis, Sam Kitchen and T. A. Norris of Peace River spent a short time at Grande Prairie on Tuesday, en route to attend the Masonic picnic at Saskatoon Island.

Adolf Stiner of Goodwin, accompanied by his children, was a business visitor in Grande Prairie on Tuesday. He took home with him a binder. Adolf stated that the crops in his area were good and he expected to start cutting wheat the end of the week.

Miss Natalie Miller left on Sunday to attend the School of Fine Arts being held at Banff. She will take the Elocution and Dramatics course.

R. A. Irwin, representing Fashioncraft men's clothing of Montreal, is on his fall trip through the Peace River.

W. H. McFarland, teller in the Grande Prairie Treasury Branch, has been transferred to Edmonton. G. S. Magee of Riley, Alberta, is taking Mr. McFarland's position. Mr. McFarland leaves on Friday by car.

Joe Mark, who has been on the staff of the Donald Cafe for over a year, leaves for the south country on Friday.

J. E. Thomson returned from a business trip to Edmonton on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lovell returned from a holiday trip to Stettin, where they visited relatives.

C. O. Trimble, representing J. L. Morton & Company, handling Pick overalls and Heston shoes, and Hope Thomson, representing Geo. Gregg Company, ancouver, are making their fall rounds of the district.

Herbie Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Shields, arrived home on Tuesday from a trip to the outside. Herbie was a going concern. His itinerary included a visit to his Granddad at Okotoks, a visit to his aunt in Turner, a visit with an uncle at Calgary, during which he took in the Stampede. On top of this he spent a week in the mountains fishing.

R. H. Philp and family arrived home on Tuesday afternoon from a holiday trip to the Coast, during which they visited Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle and Portland. Mr. Philp said that they were greatly taken with Portland, adding that the people there had time to laugh. The trip was described as most enjoyable. On the return trip they found the highway from Edmonton very rough.

After visiting the Block for several days Rev. H. R. Horne, of Regina superintendent of Missions for the Presbyterian Church of Canada, spent from Tuesday to Friday at Grande Prairie, when he left to visit the North side of the Peace.

Marion, Dorothy, Stanley and Shirley, children of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. McQuitty, of Sexsmith, who were visiting their grand-dad, Paul Larson of Flying Shot, recently returned home. The young folks had the time of their lives, and grand-dad helped them save it.

Mrs. Gordon Sher of Hualien was a passenger on Friday's train en route home from Edmonton.

Joe McPherson of Calgary, representing RKO Radio Pictures, is a business visitor in Grande Prairie.

Jeff Watson, G.A.G. James and J. B. Oliver left on Thursday morning on a holiday trip to the Monksman Pass.

D. S. Hayden of High Prairie and his three boys spent a short time in Grande Prairie on Thursday, en route home from Beaver Lodge, where they attended the field day put on for the Boys' Grain Clubs.

Mr. Hayden stated to The Tribune that crops in the High Prairie area have come along wonderfully since the rain.

CHARLIE R. MCKAY SPENT DAY IN GRANDE PRAIRIE

Charlie R. McKay, formerly manager of the Grande Prairie branch of the Bank of Montreal, now an inspector, spent a few days in town last week. The trip was made primarily to get his car. While here, "Mac" was busy meeting old friends, among them Kelly Sunderman, noted big game guide.

In conversation with The Tribune reporter, "Mac" stated that he happened to be in Vancouver during the Royal Visit to that city.

One of the most inspiring things of the week, he said, was the march past of the 48th Highland pipe band. He added that he sure got an earful of the soul-stirring divine music.

Wedding Bells

CLARKE-SMITH

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, on July 24, when Opal, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith, Berwyn, Alberta, became the bride of Harold, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, Peace River, Alberta. Rev. E. F. Church officiated.

The bride looked lovely in a going-away gown of queen's lace, with accessories, and carried a bouquet of tea roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Huffman of Vancouver attended the bride and groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the La Fonda Cabaret, where twenty-two guests enjoyed a wedding supper and an evening of dancing.

FUNCTIONS HONORING MR. AND MRS. CLARKE

Mrs. Harold Clarke was entertained recently by Mrs. T. Donaldson at a miscellaneous shower. Pink roses and sweet peas centered the table, which was laid for twelve.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clarke were honored with surprise party at the home of Mrs. G. Reynolds of Vancouver, the gifts being presented by Miss Mary Reynolds.

More About . . .

provision of armaments for the peace, my country, McKay said, permanent peace can only be established amongst the nations by rallying our people around the banner of friendship, tolerance, mutual understanding and mutual trust.

Mrs. Arthur Price of Quebec voiced the convictions of the many mothers with sons of military age who are attending the Assembly when she said: "I have four sons. One is in the army, one in the air force and one in the naval reserve. If war comes I have to give all I hold most dear. What can I do for peace? The greatest thing I can do is to enlist in this army, for we are at war for a new world, where the standards of Jesus Christ will become the standards of humanity."

Among the highlights of the session were Brigadier-General Peter Winsor, D.S.O., one-legged veteran of the Boer and Great War, and Baron Robert Watt, Viscount of Perth, a survivor of the worst year of fighting at Verdun. "Nowhere," declared the former, "will you find such freedom as among God-directed lives. The Baron said I know the horror of war. Everyone protests against it, but protesting has never altered things, nor made them better. It is just an easy chair for one's conscience."

"We have to rebuild a sane public opinion, to bring back to common sense a world perfectly insane, because it has been controlled only by human wisdom. Human wisdom has failed. God's wisdom must reign supreme. It can direct mankind if people are willing to listen. We have to revise all our resentments, prejudices and fears."

Dr. Frank Buchanan, founder of the Oxford Group and leader of the Assembly, insisted that the moment of decision by the individual is past; the nation could be no longer delayed. "If we don't decide for guidance, guns will decide for us."

LIGHTER SIDE OF LIFE

Let Them Stay

Down to the coast for the season, he was enjoying his coffee on the step of the posh hotel, where there were music and bright lights. To him to his leisure he ordered a cigar (hang the expense!). This was promptly produced by the solicitous waiter, who inquired: "Shall I remove the band, sir?" He was envious in Turner, a visit with an uncle at Calgary, during which he took in the Stampede. On top of this he spent a week in the mountains fishing.

High Finance
An old Aberdeenian received from his tailor a bill for a suit of clothes. The amount due was $2, said to the tailor, "before I pay this account, you'll have to reduce it to one pound nineteen shillings and elevenpence."

"For why?" asked the tailor.
"Er, m'lord, can ye no' use your brains? I'll save a penny and ye'll save tuppence. Ye'll no' need tae put on a receipt stamp."

Bring the Physician
Two butchers in the same street in a town in the old country, one opposite the other, were advertising their wares.
The first one put up in his window: "Sausages, 10d per lb. To pay more is to be robbed."

His rival countered with: "Sausages, 10d per lb. To pay less is to be poisoned."

Number one then announced: "Our sausages still 10d per lb. As supplied to H.M. the King."

But victory rested with his rival, whose final notice read simply: "God Save the King!"

Sail On
One evening at dinner a big-game hunter told a story which, though perhaps a little exaggerated, was doubtless substantially true.

The hunter was told that a fisherman had been seen with a sea-serpent two hundred feet long. The hunter was offended, and left the table.

"Now, Mr. McPherson," said the host, "you've insulted a friend of mine, and ought to apologize."
"Well," said Mr. McPherson, "he'll take a wee bit off that tiger. Ah'll see what Ah can do about his serpent."

Bank of Montreal Crop Report No. 7

MONTREAL, July 27.—Bank of Montreal crop report No. 7, issued today, is as follows:

General

Crop conditions in the Prairie Provinces continue favorable on the whole, although some districts have occurred as a result of hot weather, particularly in southeastern Saskatchewan and in the southern portions of Alberta and Manitoba. Moderate rains and light showers in many districts have checked deterioration, but further moisture is required to aid filling. Grasshoppers, which are now in flight, are a serious menace to crops, but apart from southeastern Saskatchewan, where some severe damage has occurred, losses so far have not been extensive. Hail damage is reported at scattered points.

In Quebec crops continue to make good progress under favorable conditions, and the outlook is promising. With recent showers, moisture is ample, and the warm dry weather now prevailing is proving beneficial. In Ontario the continued dry weather has facilitated harvesting operations and the condition of the crops is good generally. Moisture, however, has become inadequate, and rain is urgently needed for growing crops.

In the Maritime Provinces, while growth in some districts is still backward, crops made good progress during the past week and prospects continue favorable. There is ample moisture, and warm, dry weather is needed to hasten development.

In British Columbia, with the continuance of favorable weather all crops are making good progress. While the quality of hay is only below average, the outlook for grain, roots and vegetables is good, and indications point to fruit yields being from 90 per cent to 100 per cent of average.

Alberta
Crops have deteriorated during the past week, chiefly owing to insufficient moisture and winds from the south and southern areas. Rains are required in these areas for filling and for checking deterioration. The weather in northern areas has been showery and cool. Light yields are expected in the Peace River District, due to early drought.

Saskatchewan
While hot weather has caused deterioration to crops in some sections, conditions generally continue satisfactory. Light to heavy showers in many districts have been beneficial to crops, but good rains are required at most points to ensure proper filling. Grasshoppers are attacking crops in the southeastern district; some wheat is being cut for feed. Elsewhere the damage to date from grasshoppers is slight.

Manitoba
Crops are maturing rapidly and wheat harvesting should be fairly general in about a week. Crops generally continue satisfactory, although, due to the hot weather, some deterioration has occurred. While light to moderate scattered rains have fallen, further moisture would be beneficial in most districts. Grasshoppers are prevalent in the south, but little damage is reported so far.

Province of Quebec
Eastern Townships and Ottawa Valley Grains are progressing favorably and prospects are for a good yield. Haying has been delayed by frequent showers but is now almost completed in most sections, and a normal cut is indicated. Pasture is in very good condition. Fodder corn is generally making satisfactory progress, although some districts report growth still backward. Tomato plants look promising. A good crop of canning peas is being garnered. Tobacco plants are in good condition. Potatoes and other roots are growing well. Blueberries and raspberries give promise of a good yield and other small fruits are plentiful. Prospects are favorable for a good apple crop.

Lower St. Lawrence and Lake St. John District—Grains continue to make satisfactory progress and prospects are favorable. Root crops are growing well and give promise of a good yield. Haying is well advanced and an average cut is indicated. Pasture is in very good condition. Raspberries and other small fruits are plentiful.

Ontario

Cutting of fall wheat is nearing completion and a satisfactory yield of good quality is reported. Spring grains are ripening rapidly and average yields are indicated in all sections, except the east-central districts and the Niagara Peninsula, where slightly below normal crops are in prospect. An average crop of hay is being stored in good condition, but second cuttings of alfalfa will be light. Corn and roots have made progress but rainfall is needed. A normal yield of good quality tomatoes is being marketed. Various varieties promise well. Pastures are drying and growth is short, necessitating supplementary feeding of cattle in some districts. Peaches, grapes and small fruits are progressing satisfactorily. Topping of tobacco has commenced, but growth is suffering from lack of moisture.

Maritime Provinces

In Nova Scotia and New Brunswick potato plants are growing well, with little evidence of disease, and the crop outlook is considered bright. Other root crops are progressing favorably. Haying has been retarded by frequent rains and, while reports vary, a light to average cut is generally indicated. Pastures are in good condition. In the Annapolis Valley apples are sizing well, with scab and insect pests well under control. The drop has been heavy, but prospects are favorable for a good crop. Picking of blueberries has commenced in some sections and a good yield is anticipated. In Prince Edward Island grains have made good progress and root crops have shown excellent growth. The cut of hay will be light. Pastures show improvement but are below average.

British Columbia

An above-average yield from grain crops is indicated. Roots and vegetables are doing well. Potatoes are estimated at 100 per cent of average. Turnips are late and the yield will be below average. A large tonnage of hay is being cut, but the quality to date is only fair, due to heavy rains. The second cutting of alfalfa will commence within a week. Hops are in excellent condition. Cherries and strawberries, now past their peak, were damaged by excessive rain. Raspberries and loganberries of good quality are yielding well.

All tree fruits are sizing well. Apricots and early apples are moving to market. The following tree fruit yields are now indicated: Apples, 100 per cent; peaches, 100 per cent; apricots, 95 per cent; plums and prunes, 90 per cent. Average Orchard seeds are under control and no serious damage has been recorded. Water for irrigation purposes is plentiful and pasture abundant.

Wembley Sports Drew Good Crowd On Wednesday

Due to conditions, Wembley annual sports, which usually take two days to run off, this year were confined to one day, Wednesday afternoon.

Seventy teams were entered in the football tournament.

Wembley Whites defeated Lake Saskatoon; Millarston defeated the Case Eagles; Wembley Blues defeated the Case Eagles; Millarston defeated Hualien, 6 to 5; in overtime play; Wembley Blues eliminated Wembley Whites in extra innings.

Millarston won over Wembley Blues, 10 to 3, in final.

In the ladies' football Lake Saskatoon defeated Wembley; Hualien defeated Wembley; Hualien defeated Wembley. Surface assays are running from $2,000 to $3,000 per ton of ore.

Surface showings range from five to twenty feet in width over a known area of about 100 acres. More discoveries in the area are being reported daily.

AVERAGE OF 25 TO 30 BUSHEL

EXPECTED AT HEART VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. William McLean of Heart Valley and Reginald Westgate of Edmonton, who are spending his holidays with the McLeans, Jessie Pickett and Irene McLean, also of Heart Valley, spent Thursday afternoon in the Peace River District. Chatting with The Tribune reporter, Mr. McLean stated that there is a good average crop in his district and cutting of wheat should be general in two weeks.

He gave it as his opinion that wheat in his area should average between 25 and 30 bushels.

EDMONTON LIVE STOCK

EDMONTON, Aug. 2.—Hogs lower at $7.35 for off-truck carcasses.

Edmonton High-Lights In News

Completion of arrangements for distributing certain farm repair parts through the Provincial Marketing Board was announced last week by the board's executive committee. The board, which is a joint venture of the federal and provincial governments, is expected to meet this season's needs, has been purchased and will be distributed to farmers from depots centred in Edmonton, Red Deer, Calgary and Lethbridge.

While it was not the wish of the government to interfere with existing agencies for agricultural distribution, said the Premier, it was the intention to help the farmer cut down his overhead costs of production. . . . so that he may compete more equitably with producers who are not so handicapped by long and expensive freight hauls.

The Premier also stated that Geo. A. Clash, chairman of the Provincial Marketing Board, had recently returned from manufacturing centres in the east with rights to manufacture some of the parts within Alberta. "Parts that can, will be made here strictly according to specification. Parts which cannot be made here will be imported."

Purchase of large supplies of standard machine parts has made remarkable savings possible, Mr. Aherhart pointed out. Although Alberta government could not control the price of grain, "it can assist the farmer to reduce his overhead and cut down farming costs." This policy, concluded the Premier's statement, "is in line with other efforts to reduce the farmers' production costs—extension of the three per cent bonus on fuel oil bought with treasury vouchers, for instance."

In the first of a series of two radio talks regarding the new repair parts policy, George A. Clash, chairman of the Marketing Board, stated that 25,000 pieces, covering 540 lines of parts, had been purchased from the manufacturers of repair parts. These parts, he said, carried a moneyback guarantee.

Hearings by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, of objections to the recent cut in the price of milk are being continued in Edmonton. By order of the board the price of milk was reduced one cent per quart after June 30.

The reason for the cut was that it was thought production costs were lower during the summer months. The price to producers was lowered 38 cents per hundred pounds of milk in Edmonton and in the southern half of the province was 40 cents per 100 pounds.

Witnesses appearing before Mr. Carpenter have strenuously objected to the cut and insist that the cost of production is not higher in the summer than in the winter. High standard of equipment, etc., demanded by the dairy industry, help to increase the costs of production. In Edmonton, one witness said that 182 dairy farmers are affected by the price cut "who have at no time been returning more than the costs of production." Another witness declared that if the new price of $1.85 per hundred pounds of milk is continued each summer, he is going to stop dairying.

Meanwhile, at Calgary the royal commission under Mr. Justice McGillivray continues to probe into Alberta's oil industry. Reductions up to two cents in the price of tractor fuel have been announced by one oil company and it is expected the others will follow suit immediately. No cause is given for the reduction.

The price cut goes into effect at once to enable farmers buying oil for harvest operations to take advantage of the savings of many thousands of dollars. This he made by the Alberta farmers.

Mr. Justice McGillivray stated recently that if it were deemed advisable, in the interests of the Alberta consumer, the commission would not hesitate to recommend the elimination of oil jobbers. North Star Oil, Arctic Oil, Great West Distributors, McColl-Frontenac Oil, and Maple Leaf Petroleum were firms named in the evidence.

The jobbers' side of the story was presented by Geo. A. Mackenzie, president of the Great West Distributors, Ltd. Elimination of the jobbers, he claimed, "would place the petroleum business in the hands of a few mighty corporations." He thought, on the other hand, that refiners should be prevented from gouging the retail business. This, he said, would place the oil industry on a healthier competitive basis.

Canadiana

New "Wealth" for Mammals

Yellowknife.—Believed to be one of the richest gold fields in the Northwest Territories, and perhaps the most promising in Canada, a strike was made about 50 miles east of here. The strike was made by the surface assays are running from $2,000 to $3,000 per ton of ore.

Surface showings range from five to twenty feet in width over a known area of about 100 acres. More discoveries in the area are being reported daily.

And New Wealth for All

Lethbridge.—Harvesting of southern Alberta's wheat crop has begun. First reports of cutting spring wheat come from Purple Springs, about 40 miles east of this city.

Precocious Preacher

Vancouver.—Rev. Charles F. Jaynes, Jr., nine years old, arrived here recently and said he had come "because I believe Canada is the work of God."

Believed to be the youngest ordained minister in the world, the reverend youngster has married several couples in the United States and has occupied pulpits in 128 of the largest American cities. He was ordained by the International Ministerial Association two years ago.

West is Western

Vancouver.—Exclusion of Orientals from Canada will be the first duty of the Conservative party if it is elected at the next general poll. This was promised by Howard Green, sitting member for Vancouver South.

Mr. Green charged that Prime Minister King was "friendly with Japan" and would continue to allow a limited number of Japanese into Canada.

Sunny Alberta

Edmonton.—Marked increases in the number of American tourists travelling to Edmonton and northern Alberta are reported by J. A. McColl, secretary of the Alberta Motor Association. Cars have registered from nearly every state in the Union, he said, adding that the south side auto camp has a constant population running between 200 and 300 people.

No Difference

Winnipeg.—Hon. W. D. Herridge told a public meeting here that he would stand against Prime Minister King if the "united progressive parties of Prince Albert" offer him the nomination at even though the C.C.F. has decided to place a candidate in that constituency.

Major Herridge stated he was sorry that J. S. Woodworth had refused to cooperate with the New Democracy Movement, but he appealed to the rank and file to support it. "They are not in doubt," said the leader. "They want security, freedom of expression, and they want security more than Mr. Woodworth, when Socialism stands in the way of security."

Conservative Solution

Smith Falls.—A non-political board to enforce cooperation between Canada's two railways is the Conservative party's way of dealing with the railway problem, outlined here by Hon. R. J. Manion.

Cooperation is not a failure, declared Dr. Manion, because it has never been tried. His party also stood for compensation for jobs lost through cooperation, fair rates basis, refunding of railway securities, and building Canada up to the railways instead of tearing the railways down.

Up in Smoke

Toronto.—Not only western Canada's wheat farmers are rejoicing at the prospect of a big crop. Ontario tobacco producers are growing the largest crop on record. Revenue to the 4,000 growers in the industry may reach $20,000,000 from 77,000 acres. Ontario's tobacco bowl is centred along Lake Erie.

Suspense

Victoria.—Full data on alternate routes for the U.S.-Alaska highway will be presented at a session of the investigating commission not later than December 10. The British Columbia government entertained the commission at an informal luncheon, but no decision on the exact route was reached.

Election Data

Ottawa.—Dominion election officials estimate that 6,500,000 Canadian citizens are entitled to vote at the next general election. However, it is expected that less than five million will exercise their franchise.

Electing the 245 members of parliament will cost the Dominion government approximately $2,500,000, and the party machines untold sums.

Nearly 110,000 persons will be employed to handle the election machinery which will involve 32,444 polling booths throughout Canada. Meanwhile, Prime Minister MacKenzie King said he did not consider the European outlook settled enough. While it has improved somewhat, the possibility still remains that Parliament may have to meet again this year to decide "peace or war."

Not Permanent . . . Yet

Edmonton.—There will be no unemployment in Alberta this fall, according to recent predictions by employment and railway officials. Task of harvesting Alberta's grain crop will provide work for every able-bodied man in the province, they declared.

Movement of men to the farms has already begun, it was stated, and many men railroaders unemployed for some time have returned to work to prepare for moving what is hoped to be the biggest crop in a decade. Two hundred and fifty men have been re-employed in the Ogden shops during July.

Added Mail And Passenger Plane Service By Y. S.

Thursday, August 3, marked the commencement of the added mail and passenger service to Whitehorse, Yukon, when Ted Field landed the Barkley on time on the airfield at 10 a.m. on the first flight of this service, after a flight of an hour and a half from Edmonton.

This means another mail and passenger service for Grande Prairie, making three planes each way per week. The extra service is to take care of the mail mainly coming out of Alaska and the Yukon and intervening points at this time of the year. With the train mail service, this gives Grande Prairie a total of five mails per week on the daily.

The new service will connect up with all air lines operating through Alaska and the Yukon and North, as well as making connections with Trans-Canada Air Lines southbound.
